Centennial Program Is Voted Best News Story Of '63 By Times Staff

Gettysburg's Battle and Lincoln Address Centennial celebration was the year's top story according to a vote by members of the editorial staff of the Gettysburg Times this morning.

The story was a continuing one throughout the year culminating in November 19 exercises at which Past President Dwight D. Eisenhower and Gov. William W. Scranton were the speakers.

Along the way the story had included reports of special centennial activities held by practically every organization in the area—and stories of observances held in many other cities; the events conducted by the Adams County Centennial Commission including Early's raid, the observance honoring the men from the county who fought in the Civil War, the vignettes and other activities.

SECOND BEST STORY

The second top story of the year was the criminal assault on two young college coeds near Oak Ridge by Wendell Spidel of Carlisle who later was given one of the longest sentences ever imposed by an Adams County court, 25 to 50 years. In tenth place was another shocking story, the search for the murderer of Mrs. Kermitt Paxton at her home near Gardners. Death occurred October 24, 1962.

Third place in the competition went to the Route 15 "bypass." The story began early in 1963 as contractors raced to complete the approximately 13 miles of road bypassing the town to the east.

COMMISSIONERS

Fourth place went to the race for county commissioner which started with nine Republicans and six Democrats seeking the four nominations for the post and ended with a new board of commissioners and a Democratic majority on the board for the first time in 28 years. The election also gave the county its first Republican district attorney in 40 years.

LOCAL FIRM MERGES WITH MARYLAND CO.

Effective today, Telephone Employees Company, Baltimore, merges into and becomes part of Bankers Stock Insurance Company, Grandview Terrace. During November both boards of directors voted unanimously in favor of the merger.

Under the arrangement now approved by more than 90 per cent of the two companies' stockholders, the new firm will conduct business as Bankers & Telephone Employees Insurance Company.

Bankers Group of companies employs 114 people. Only a few of the employees are expected to move to Gettysburg.

In the conversion, there are 430,584 shares of stock outstanding. More than 250,000 are held by five groups. They are: Bankers Mutual Insurance Co. of Adams County, the John Hostetter family, Eastman Dillon Union Securities, the Du Pont family interests in Wilmington and the Massachusetts Protective Association, a Masonic accident and health insurance company, Worcester, Mass.

CAPITALIZATION

Bankers was capitalized for $600,000 with 60,000 shares of stock at a par value of $10 while Telephone Employees had 1,081 stockholders in 23 states with 411,168 shares of $1.50 par value stock outstanding. Bankers stock was held by 35 persons connected with the company and not publicly traded while Telephone Employees stock was traded on the over-the-counter market in the large eastern cities. The conversion into the new company will be at the rate of 3½ shares of the new stock for each share of Bankers and one new share for each two held in Telephone Employees. This will give the new company 430,584 shares at $2.50 par value or a capitalization of $1,076,460 with approximately $825,000 in surplus.

The charter powers of the new company will include all fire and casualty lines with the following serving as officers: John E. Hostetter, president and general manager; Charles A. Smith, vice president; Warren R. Argar,

DECEMBER COLD, DRY; SET RECORDS

An icy December went into the local weather annals today and helped 1963 set some new weather records.

This morning's one below zero reading was the coldest of this season but not as cold as some mornings early in the year when readings as low as nine below zero were taken here last January. At 8 a.m. today the mercury stood at zero in the thermometers at The Gettysburg Times weather station.

December was added to the long list of months this year that had a shortage of rainfall. With 12½ inches of snow the month received only 2.21 inches of precipitation. Normal for December is 2.95 inches.

SECOND DRIEST YEAR

The December rainfall brought the 1963 total to 30.53 inches which is 11.47 inches short of normal.

Here are some of the records that December set:

The coldest December here since 1960 when a 40-year record for frigidity was set. The second coldest December since 1917.

The ninth month this year that was short on rainfall which makes 1963 the second driest year here since continuous weather records were begun here 60 years ago. Only the record-breaking 1930 was drier with its total of 23.63 inches of rain.

13 ALL-FREEZING DAYS

The cold, dry December followed the wettest November in 11 years and the warmest in 15 years. November had a surplus of rain of nearly two inches.

Temperatures this month averaged six and a half degrees below normal daily. The average daily reading was 27.61 degrees. Normal for the month is 34.2 degrees. The range was from this morning's one below zero reading to a high of 48 degrees on the afternoon of December 7. There were freezing temperatures every day of the month and on 13 days the temperature did not go above freezing.

Measurable rain or snow fell on only five days this month.

The daily high temperature readings averaged only a little more than two degrees above freezing and the daily lows averaged just under 21 degrees.

DIMES MARCH CAMPAIGN IS OPENED TODAY

The annual March of Dimes campaign of the Adams County unit of the National Foundation began today with delivery by mailmen throughout the county of letters to the 14,000 owners of autos asking donations toward the campaign.

Mrs. Joseph E. Codori, head of the campaign, the 31st conducted by the local chapter of the National Foundation, said that the annual March of Dimes dance held in connection with the campaign will be held February 1 at the Hotel Gettysburg with Mary Howe's orchestra providing the music.

Originally established to combat polio, the National Foundation extended its efforts to arthritis and birth defects after the polio vaccines were discovered.

REVIEW YEAR'S WORK

Mrs. Codori said much of the work of the county group during the last year has been with those suffering from birth defects and added, "There are many more such cases than we had imagined.

MASSES WEDNESDAY

Heidlersburg Home Burns Today

Only the charred shell of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Betts, Heidlersburg, remained this morning after fire swept through the nine-room log home, driving Mrs. Betts and six children from their beds in only their nightclothes. Loss was estimated at over $10,000 and included all their possessions. The blaze was attributed to an oil burner used to heat the kitchen. (Times Photo)

MISS V. SACHS ENDS 28 YEARS IN COURTHOUSE

Miss Viola M. Sachs today concluded 28 years as a county employee, 24 of which were spent in the office of register and recorder.

She spent the last few hours of her "term of office" cleaning out her desk for her successor and saying goodbye to the many friends she has made in more than a score of years in the courthouse.

Miss Sachs' first job in the courthouse was in the office of the Borough police said Grace A. Deardorff, 49, Orrtanna R. 1, was driving east on Breckenridge St. and then pulled out onto S. Washington St. in the path of a southbound car being operated on S. Washington St. by Mrs. Joyce T. Cole, 29, 839 Fairview Ave.

Police said Mrs. Deardorff turned her car south and the left front bumper, grille and fender of the Cole car struck the left rear fender and door of the Dear-dorf vehicle.

Damage was estimated at $350 to the Cole vehicle and $250 to the Deardorff car.

TRADE HEAVY

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market made a substantial gain in a New Year's Eve rally, with trading heavy early this afternoon.

The trend was higher from the start but the edge was thin at the opening. As the buying mood spread, the market averages moved upward decisively.

In 1940 she moved to the register and recorder's office, to which Winfield G. Horner had been elected and which he served for two terms. When Harry D. Ridinger was elected in 1948, Miss Sachs remained and continued in that position when the present register and recorder, Carl S. Menchey, was elected in 1956. Menchey was re-elected for the third term last November.

SEES MANY CHANGES

She has witnessed many changes in office procedure in her 28 active years, she agrees, but "the biggest change will be taking place now because of the fact that the county has advanced from a seventh class to a sixth class county." The class changed two years ago, but new procedures in the register and recorder's office were delayed until the current term.

Miss Sachs recalls the many lawyers she saw come into the office for the first time and remembers the older ones who no longer are living. Among these Six-year-old Mary T. Cole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Cole, 839 Fairview Ave., suffered a bruise over the right eye in an auto accident Monday afternoon at 3:15 o'clock at the corner of S. Washington and Breckenridge Sts.

Borough police said Grace A. Deardorff, 49, Orrtanna R. 1, was driving east on Breckenridge St. and then pulled out onto S. Washington St. in the path of a southbound car being operated on S. Washington St. by Mrs. Joyce T. Cole, 29, 839 Fairview Ave.

Prayer, Hope For Peace And Whoopee Will Usher New Year At Midnight

By BERNIE GOULD
Associated Press Writer

The new year starts at midnight tonight with world leaders expressing hope that it will be a peaceful one.

The celebration will range from the solemnity of prayer to the whoopee-making noises of revelers.

In Italy, they'll throw junk from windows and doors to symbolize removing old and undesired things to make way for the new. It's illegal, but it's also traditional.

In New York's Times Square, a million or more people are expected to brave frigid weather and watch the dropping of a lighted ball down a 70-foot spire of the Allied Chemical building (formerly the Times Tower) at precisely midnight. The annual event will be televised.

FUN AND CHEER

Still millions of others will crowd into nightclubs, hotels and private homes the world over for fun and cheer—bottled and otherwise.

The main concourse of New York's Grand Central terminal—normally the scene of hurrying train commuters—has been converted into a balloon-filled ballroom for a New Year's Eve charity dance.

Hoopla and hijinks were on tap elsewhere, and the revelers will pay up to $35 per person in commercial night spots.

Japan's Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda and Soviet Premier Khrushchev exchanged New Year's greetings.

"I hope people of the world will make further efforts in 1964 toward realization of world peace and security of mankind," Ikeda said.

"MUTUAL GOALS"

Khrushchev expressed a desire for closer ties between the two nations and for peace in the Far East.

West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard told President Johnson and

FAIRFIELD MAN DIES AT WHEEL OF HIS AUTO

The Adams County coroner, Dr. C. G. Crist, said Mr. Adams was driving on the Emmitsburg Rd. when his car ran up a bank at a motel near the Truck Stop. Persons at the motel went to the car, found Mr. Adams ill, and called the Gettysburg ambulance.

The ambulance drivers on their arrival found death had apparently occurred and summoned Dr. Crist.

Mr. Adams was a son of the late Edward and Lou (Orndorff) Adams an elhuhsband of the late Mary E. Shorb Adams, who died in 1947.

Cross Keys Lights Now In Operation

Traffic lights at Cross Keys became a reality Monday afternoon at 2:15 o'clock when the lights were turned on permanently by the Reiglemeier Traffic Service, Harrisburg, which held the contract for placing the controls there.

Full operation of the lights is scheduled to take place in about three weeks when an ultra-sonic system will be installed which will count the number of vehicles on each approach to the intersection and operate the lights in accordance with the number of cars approaching from the various approaches and the time others have been stopped by traffic.

Cost of the installation, paid by the county, is $8,263.60. The three townships abutting on the intersection will pay for maintenance of the system and install curbs or fencing along the intersection, prohibit parking at the intersection and provide entrances and exits for the business places there.

NEW TV STAR GAINS STATURE IN "JUNCTION"

A Lovelier You

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Dentistry's gift to acting. Edgar Buchanan, appears to have found a steady job.

"I don't count on anything until it happens," says Buchanan. "But it looks pretty good."

He needn't be so cautious in talking about "Petticoat Junction" the television series in which he is a star. It has scored higher in the ratings than any other new show this season and appears a cinch to continue running.

"If it happens, that's okay with me," Buchanan said. "This series has helped my ulcer. I don't have to worry about where my next job is coming from—not for a while, anyway."

STEADY ROLE

Buchanan acted in 15 or more television series during the year, and he figures he's taking a loss by sticking with "Petticoat Junction." But it's steady, and he's getting more public recognition, and he'll be able to pick up some of that lush personal appearance money available to television stars.

"Petticoat Junction" could scarcely have been made without Buchanan, trafficking as it does in small-town humor. He has played more village rogues and grizzled deputies than he can remember.

The Buchanan sag is part of Hollywood legend—how he took a drama course at the University of Oregon because he needed to raise his grade average, how he got the acting bug and wanted to quit his medical studies, how his father, a doctor, urged him to study dentistry so he would have a profession to fall back on.

Buchanan practiced dentistry for 10 years, then came to the Pasadena Playhouse and was discovered by the movies.

a gala occasion, every lovely wishes to look her very loveliest. But, sad to say, there can be a wide gulf between the wish and the reality. You know it!

Do you know why? Sometimes a less than perfect appearance may be blamed on an unkind hand of fate. That surely would be the case if you did not feel up to par. Otherwise your looks are in your own hands. Your forehandness!

Preparedness is the key to a party-perfect turnout and, if you are thinking in terms of New Year's Eve, you haven't a moment to lose. Don't go to bed this night until you have checked the costume you plan to wear, down to the last detail—dress, lingerie, stockings, shoes, jewelry, purse, gloves. Are all items in repair and ready to wear? Make needed repairs, instantly!

The last-minute stitch and dab of cleaning fluid only ends in a botched job. There may be a bungle, too, in a brand new costume. To avoid it, hold a tryout. Put on the works, from underpinnings to earbobs. That way, no slip-ups!

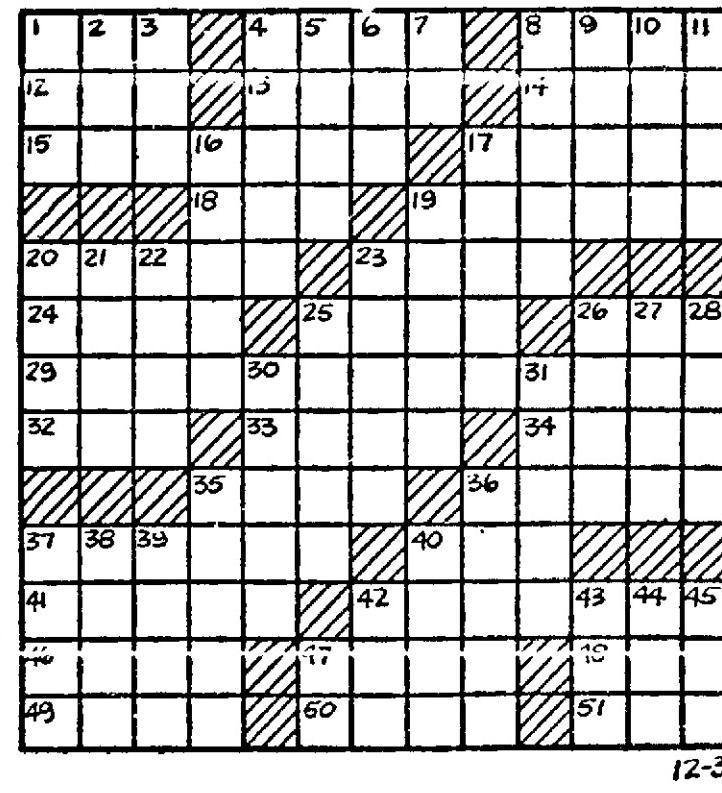

It goes without saying—or does it?—that time for a hair-do and manicure has already been set aside. So prepared, you are halfway to a charmed appearance. Dressing techniques are the other half. Allow 30 minutes to dress, perhaps a bit more. But remember that neither dawdling nor rushing produces the finish you're after. It comes only from an efficient routine, such as this:

Arrange hair and cap in a net; bathe and rub down with cologne; don all clothes except dress; make-up in a strong light; slip on dress and jewelry; remove net; inspect appearance from all angles.

Above all, don't be tempted to overdo. Parfait—that's you!

BARRY REOPENS DRIVE AGAINST LBJ POLICIES

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater's sudden salvo at President Johnson may be a signal that the Arizona Republican has decided to plunge into the 1964 presidential race.

"I guess the senator's running again," White House press secretary Pierre Salinger remarked to newsmen at Austin, Tex.

Johnson, vacationing at his ranch near Johnson City, Tex., had no comment on Goldwater's charge that the President had unfairly put pressure on Congress in his fight over the foreign aid money bill.

ADVANCED SCHEDULE

Observers noted that Goldwater, figured by the polls as the front runner among possible GOP presidential contenders before the Nov. 22 assassination of John F. Kennedy, had begun jabbing at Johnson at least two weeks ahead of his previously announced schedule.

In a Dec. 5 interview, Goldwater announced a "major reassessment" of his plans and said that he would wait until after Johnson's State of the Union address Jan. 8 before assessing the new President.

Noting that Johnson would start to establish his own record at that time, Goldwater said that "shortly thereafter the Republican party will begin to praise or to criticize."

With Thursday's blast, sent to Senate Republicans from his Phoenix home where he is recuperating from minor surgery, Goldwater came out swinging at both Johnson's policies and his methods.

"I deeply resent the President's attempts to play politics with Christmas by stampeding votes on the highly questionable foreign aid bill," he said, adding that Johnson was "trying to treat congressmen as his personal errand boys."

"The arm-twisting of Senate members to bring them into town to do nothing but rubber stamp the executive's demand is rash and altogether out of order," Goldwater continued.

He referred to plans for a Senate meeting Monday to give final congressional approval to the 3-billion foreign aid money bill for the year that started last July 1.

Goldwater underwent surgery to remove a calcium deposit on his heel.

GIVE AWARDS TO TROOP 79 MONDAY NIGHT

A number of awards were presented to members of Boy Scout Troop 79 Monday evening at a troop meeting in St. James Lutheran Church.

Scoutmaster Allen Dubbs presented Eric Bergdale the First Class badge. Carroll Zentz received the Second Class Scout badge.

Citizenship in the Home merit badges were presented to Mike Myers, James Cool and Joseph Dubbs; Citizenship in the Nation merit badges to Donald Shriner and Eric Bergdale; Woodworking merit badge to Robert Dubbs; Camping merit badges to David Rudisill, Tim Voss, Randy Hartlob, Frederick Gantz, Donald Shriner, Walter B. Powell and Joseph Dubbs.

Waste Paper Drive Chairman Autry Nunamaker announced a paper drive will be held Saturday in and around Gettysburg. The Scouts are to report to the Scout room in the church at 8:30 o'clock Saturday morning and the drive will continue to midafternoon. Nunamaker asked persons wishing the troop to pick up papers to phone 334-4391 or 334-4673.

MEET JAN. 7

Plans were announced for a committee meeting January 7 at 7:30 p.m. in the Scout room with items to be discussed including the clothes hanger sale, troop activities, troop finances and reorganization of the Ex-plorer post.

Twenty-six of the 38 members of Troop 79 encamped at the 40 and 8 cabin in South Mountain over the last weekend accompanied by Scoutmaster Allen Dubbs, Assistant Scoutmaster Autry Nunamaker and Assistant Scoutmaster Richard Spangler Sr. Transportation Officer William B. Gallagher set up transportation and assisted the boys in preparing the cabin for the troop's arrival.

Each of the four patrols prepared its own meals. Among the classes held during the camp were survival skills, tracking and stalking, compass reading and first aid. The troop went on a nature hike while at camp. The boys left the Scout room at St. James Church a 7:45 p.m. on Friday and returned at 3 p.m. on Sunday.

NAME HOUSTON

SALARY IS $7,000

Houston was elected on a 10 to 3 roll call vote and will take up his duties January 17. He will be paid $7,000 a year. Reinhart was getting $7,800 this year and the directors were told Reinhart was "one of the lowest paid school managers in this area."

Another recommendation of Weener's committee was approved by the directors under which Reinhart will be employed up to eight weeks on a half time, half salary basis to orient Houston to his new duties.

When one director questioned the $7,000 as a big starting salary, Weener replied: "It's a big job."

HEADED CHEST DRIVE

Mr. Houston is a graduate of Grove City College and served as a YMCA director in Greensburg and Uniontown before going to Columbia Gas as an auditor. After four years he was promoted to office manager and sent to Gettysburg where the local and Greencastle offices have been under his supervision.

Engagements

MISS NEWELL

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Newell, Orrtanna, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Carolyn Elaine, to Paul Frederick Crawford, son of Mrs. Pauline Crawford, 705 W. Middle St., Hanover, and the late Paul Crawford.

LARGEST WILL

One of the largest transactions

she ever executed, she recalls, were the will of the late Robert C. Myers. She remembers that the federal tax was so large that she had to seek the advice of the attorney for the estate in filling out the form. Most of her work was concerned with wills and she has been considered a local authority on probating the documents.

Miss Sachs will be succeeded by Mrs. Betty Schaeffer Pitzer, who was first employed in 1955

during Ridinger's second term.

She has worked part-time during the past several years and has two children.

What does a chief deputy do when she retires?

"I'm going to rest and do a lot of things I've wanted to do for years," she says.

Among these will be to visit her brother, Rev. Glenn W. Sachs,

a Lutheran minister in Salem,

Ore., and help her twin sister,

Mrs. Luella O. Forry, maintain the large tourist home they operate at 504 Baltimore St. They plan to visit the World's Fair in

New York next summer with Rev.

Sachs when he makes his yearly visit to Gettysburg, a trip Miss

Sachs says she's anxious to take.

She and her sister also have been planning some other trips, she adds.

The old year in Pennsylvania bowed out in a wintry blast as subzero temperatures swept the state Monday night and Tuesday morning.

The old mass was particularly numb in western Pennsylvania. St. Marys reported a reading of 21 degrees below, while at Bradford it was 12, DuBois 5, Butler 13, Altoona 2, all below zero readings.

A 19-below reading was reported from Philipsburg, and in the state's largest cities, Pittsburgh and Philadelphia the thermometer read 4 above.

Selection of the "ten best" was by vote of the staff and the last two of the ten stories receiving the top number of votes were tied with eight points each.

They were the reported finding of $52,400 by a New York school teacher in a mouldy paper bag at the Peace Light during a period when thousands of tourists were visiting the area daily and the Paxton murder case.

Runners-up to the top ten included the school reorganization story, including plans for a technical school here; the distribution of polio vaccine to 30,000 countians; the McSherrystown bicentennial; the drought — second worst in the county's history; the windup of campaign Gettysburg; the many activities and visitations involving former President Dwight D. were John Keith, S. S. Neely, George M. Walter and John L. Butt.

She accepted the courthouse position while she was employed by her uncle, the late Luther L. Sachs, who operated a hardware store on York St. She previously had worked at the Ford Garage as a bookkeeper, following her graduation from the Prowell Commercial School, Hanover, in 1923.

LARGEST WILL

One of the largest transactions she ever executed, she recalls, was the will of the late Robert C. Myers. She remembers that the federal tax was so large that she had to seek the advice of the attorney for the estate in filling out the form. Most of her work was concerned with wills and she has been considered a local authority on probating the documents.

Miss Sachs will be succeeded by Mrs. Betty Schaeffer Pitzer who was first employed in 1953 during Ridinger's second term. She has worked part-time during the past several years and has two children.

What does a chief deputy do when she retires?

"I'm going to rest and do a lot of things I've wanted to do for years," she says.

Among these will be to visit her brother, Rev. Glenn W. Sachs, a Lutheran minister in Salem, Ore., and help her twin sister, Mrs. Luella O. Furry, maintain the large tourist home they operate at 504 Baltimore St. They plan to visit the World's Fair in New York next summer with Rev. Sachs when he makes his yearly visit to Gettysburg, a trip Miss Sachs says she's anxious to take. She and her sister also have been planning some other trips, she adds.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and

The Gettysburg Times

FIFTY YEARS AGO

Fed 80 People: The Colored Elks on Christmas Day fed at their home on West High street fifty of the little colored children of town together with about thirty older persons. After the dinner all the children recited speeches or sang and the event was a great success and a happy one for all who took part.

***

Starr Traded: "Billy" Starr the Littlestown baseball player figured in a deal by which he was traded to the New Orleans club for Tepe another infielder, and a monetary consideration. Starr played excellent ball while with the Mobile Club last season. "Bris" Lord, the former Athletic player, who is managing the Mobile club, made the deal.

***

Predicament: Misses Sarah and Martha Lott of Cumberland township had an unpleasant experience on Friday when they were driving through Marsh Creek at one of the much used fords. The harness suddenly gave way and the horse walked on out of the stream leaving them sitting in the buggy with water three feet or more in depth threatening to overturn the vehicle. It did turn the buggy about but they screamed lustily for help and John Wible and Emory Plank got them out of their predicament before any further damage was done.

***

Board Sanctions New Campaign: The authorization of President Graville's new campaign to secure a fund of $130,000 for building improvements; the acceptance of the resignation of Dr. John A. Himes as head of the chair of English and the election of two new professors, were the principal items of business transacted at the mid-winter meeting of the board of trustees of Gettysburg College held in Harrisburg on Tuesday. The resolution adopting Dr. Granville's plan for the financial campaign also provided for a request to the General Education Board (Rockefeller Foundation) to donate $32,500 or one-fourth of this money is to be divided as follows: For a new science hall $75,000; for a new addition and repairs to Stevens Hall (Prep) $40,000; for an engineering shop, old chemical laboratory $10,000; for an infirmary $5,000. The resignation of Dr. John Andrew Himes as Graeff Professor of English Literature and Political Science was accepted with regret to take effect with the end of the present scholastic year in June 1914. The resolutions accepting Dr. Himes' resignation provided that the board "place on record our great appreciation of the high Christian character, scholarly ability and faithfulness of Professor Himes, manifested in all his life and work during his long connection with the institution." The board also expressed its regret at the inability at the present time, owing to lack of funds, to provide an adequate pension for those professors who, after long and useful service retire from active work, either because of advancing years or to secure time and opportunity for quiet study and research. Dr. Himes was elected on Tuesday professor emeritus to serve without salary as an advisor member of the faculty. Henry Robinson Shipherd, of Harvard University, was elected to succeed Dr. Himes. M. Stuart MacDonald, Ph. D., of Cornell University, was elected professor of economics and political science. The athletic council was increased from three to six active members. John F. ## Today's Talk

HAPPY NEW YEAR!

Here we are in another New Year! Some of us may feel just a little older, but with this extended age we are given just that much added wisdom — the wisdom of experience.

Also, we are granted the wisdom of faith. We couldn't go far, or achieve much, without this gift of faith.

As we look back we see the picture of a multitude of mistakes, but with the oncoming of each new day of this fresh New Year these mistakes will grow dimmer; and if we look up and not down, soon we shall have gone so far away from these mistakes that they will no longer be remembered.

Every day should be the beginning of a happy New Year. Life is a walk, a journey, an adventure, a task, a joyous opportunity. Some are getting this experience in the busy marts of trade, others out upon the extending fields with all nature as their host, while there are those who are bedridden, but from whose hearts no bitter complaints are heard. Each is journeying.

How glad each of us should be that most of the world is now at peace and that people, and nations, are beginning to better appraise one another in terms of understanding.

I recall a sentence contained in a letter I once received from a busy business man. He wrote: "It has occurred to me many times that if I were running a newspaper I should have the equal of one column a day devoted to what I might put under a heading such as 'The GOOD Men Do!'"

Welcome to you, New Year! Give to us the richness of all that you are in your freshness and hope. Lift up this chin of ours, lead these feet aright. Make us brave in our decisions; and give to our plodding, pounds and pounds of patience.

We don't want "just another year." We want fine achievement and every one of this New Year's days packed with genuine service on our part, given freely back to this world that has us in its hand.

Hail, New Year! Keep us from complaining. Make us men and women all the way. Thank you for coming!

NEW YEAR'S DAY

Here's the day when I am fine, Day when strength of will is mine, Here's the day I put aside Vice for virtue glorified; Here's the day when I renew Every pledge that's good and true, Weed the garden of my past — But somehow it doesn't last.

Here's the day I start afresh Clambering out of habit's mesh;

Now I put my pipes away Never more to smoke, I say, Nevermore, for it is vain, Shall I utter speech profane; All my faults away I've cast — But somehow it doesn't last.

Here's the day I'm free from sin, Clean without and clean within, Big of heart and broad of mind.

Never mean and always kind; Free from malice, free from shame,

All that's lovable, I am, Honest stuff and color-fast — But somehow it doesn't last.

Meet me on this happy day, Not a bitter word I'll say,

You shall see a smiling face, Be received with courtly grace,

And I'll gladly prove to you That I know what I should do;

But before the month is o'er I shall be myself once more.

Steve Barber, Orioles' Hurler, Predicts Good Ball Club Next Season

The Baltimore Orioles 1964 team "should be a pretty good club—we've got the potential," Pitcher Steve Barber told the Kiwanis Club at its meeting Monday evening in the Lamp Post Tea Room. Barber said he leaves February 23 for spring training.

"We ought to have good pitching and probably a little better hitting, and be a more interesting ball club next season," he said.

The left-handed 20-game winner had a good word for everyone with whom he played and against whom he played. Robin Roberts should "go three-four-five years more. His new style of pitching puts no strain on him and he has a deceptive delivery. I think he will be effective for many years. All we need do is score a few more runs for him. He may be the last to win 300."

BERRA LAUDED

"Yogi Berra should make out well managing the Yankees. The Yankees are professionals and professionals don't take advantage of friendship. Beside the Yankees discipline themselves. The players themselves make sure they play winning ball games."

"Jim Gentile never let up in the field and he is a good fielder. He played when physically he should not have played, but he is there to win."

"Roger Maris is a very fine person and has a great deal of regard for his fellow players. Maris' problem was inability to cope with publicity when 20 newsmen at a time were following his every move."

STARTED IN 1957

Barber started playing professional ball in 1957, a year after he was out of high school.

The cost to a ball club to keep a player in a hotel during spring training is $87.50 a week in addition to which he is given $25 a week for tips and incidentals.

When a player takes his family with him he is given $112.50 a week. The cost to a player who has his family with him, in addition to what he receives from the club, is about $1,000 for spring training," Barber said.

"The larger strike zone meant little. I saw only about 30 pitches called strikes last season which would not have been strikes before."

"Pitchers cannot relax during a game. You go as hard as you can as long as you can and then someone comes in to take over when you've reached the point where you can't keep going any longer."

YOUTHS AT MEETING

Many of the questions put to Barber came from John Eyer, Paul Wolf, Ed Hughes, Bruce Candel, Charles Raffensperger, Joel Hill, Dick Fox and Dave Lutz, members of the Big Little League team sponsored by the Kiwanis Club who were guests at the dinner meeting.

DECIDE AFL TITLE SUNDAY AT SAN DIEGO

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) The San Diego Chargers are warming up with a big assist from the weather for their Sunday game with the Boston Patriots to decide the championship of the American Football League.

The Chargers held a Monday workout—their first of the season on that day—as the temperature went to a Dec. 30 record high of 82 degrees. A high of 79 is called for today.

Somewhat cooler weather is expected by the time the Patriots arrive Wednesday night from the chilly confines of their home city.

SAN DIEGO WON 2

The game between the league's Western and Eastern Division champions will be their third of the season. San Diego won the previous encounters 17-13 and 7-6.

The Chargers learned while doing it to treat the Patriots with respect, particularly because of their daring defensive play which San Diego Coach Sid Gillman calls "feast or famine football." He admits, however, that his Chargers haven't feasted on it yet.

The Patriots in the previous games swarmed through to get at veteran quarterback Tobin Rote, even at the apparent risk of leaving Charger pass receivers uncovered.

Boston's middle linebacker Nick Buoniconti is especially respected.

Joe says of Buoniconti, "I know I will see him coming at me plenty."

An hour's factory work in 1962 would buy 3.4 pounds of bacon, compared with 2.2 pounds in 1942 and 1.8 pounds in 1932.

47 Cats Trapped In Central Park

NEW YORK (AP) Domestic cats gone wild have turned Central Park's bird sanctuary into a private jungle.

Evicted from mid-Manhattan apartments, the cats have found good hunting among the park's song birds and migratory ducks.

A park worker said Monday that 47 cats were trapped this year and 26 last year.

MIDDLETOWN SPURT TRIPS DELONE 75-66

Middleton Catholic put up a brilliant battle against favored Middletown but dropped a 75-66 decision to the Blue Raiders before an overflow crowd Monday evening in McSherrystown.

A run of 10 straight points by the Raiders after Delone led 58-56 early in the final frame spelled doom for the Squires.

Middleton, picked to take the Capital Area Conference for the fourth straight time, got off to a sizzling start in piling up a 17-7 lead midway in the first period but the Squires fought back to reduce the margin to 19-14 at the close of the quarter and pulled to a 25-25 tie late in the second period. Then Coach Flaherty's scrappy outfit moved to the front at 35-31 at intermission.

RAIDERS TAKE OVER

It was nip and tuck the rest of the way until the Raiders put on their scoring spree in the final frame. Harvey Colston, who topped all 28 points, larped a pair of fouls which tied the score at 58-58. John Barnoski sent his team ahead with a goal and then the Raiders added six straight points on fouls, two each by Barnoski, Colston and again Barnoski. Meanwhile Delone muffed three first shots on one and one situations.

Four Delone players reached double figures with Jim Roth and 23 points, Phil Staub 17, Junie Reese 12 and Steve Garwick 11.

The Delone reserves bowed in the preliminary 65-57.

Delone, now 4-3, will open the Central Penn Catholic League season at Lancaster Catholic next Tuesday.

INJURY HITS NAVY SQUAD ON BOWL EVE

Navy's crusading Middleies have been hit in their four-star backfield just two days before the showdown struggle with top-ranked Texas in the Cotton Bowl, one of four New Year's Day classics bringing together seven of the top eight college football teams in the country.

CLOSE BATTLE IS FORECAST IN ROSE BOWL

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — A close battle, probably settled by Illini Jim Plankenhorn's accurate toe, seems destined in the New Year's Day Rose Bowl football game between third-ranked Illinois and "unwanted" Washington.

Illinois is rated a one-touchdown favorite. Sunny weather is expected.

On the Big Ten side of the fence, at least, the men who should know best—coaching rivals of Illinois' Pete Elliott—see the Illini battling for their life against a Husky squad primed by a master Big Game mentor, Jumbo Jim Owens.

POOREST RECORD
The Huskies bring a dull 6-4 won-loss record into their third Rose Bowl appearance in five years. That's the poorest regular season record ever sported by a Rose Bowl representative. Oft-printed suggestion here has been that Southern California was the best Rose Bowl potential by far.

"The larger strike zone meant little. I saw only about 30 pitches called strikes last season which would not have been strikes before."

By MIKE RATHET

Navy's crusading Middies have been hit in their four-star backfield just two days before the showdown struggle with top-ranked Texas in the Cotton Bowl, one of four New Year's Day classics bringing together seven of the top eight college football teams in the country.

Pat Donnelly, the jarring fullback in the Navy backfield that includes All-America quarterback Roger Staubach, halfback Johnny Sai and flanker Ed Orr, stretched a hamstring muscle in his left leg during practice Monday.

"He went down like a shot," said Coach Wayne Hardin. "He is going to start the game, but we won't know what he is going to be able to do until the game starts. If he can go, he'll go. If he can't we'll have to get along without him."

SEVERE BLOW

The injury was considered a severe blow to Navy's chance of defeating the Longhorns in a game Hardin admits the second-ranked Middies want to win more than any single game this season. That includes the Army game in which Donnelly scored all three touchdowns.

"Texas is even more important than Army," says Hardin. "Texas is the national champion. The polls are over and we can't change that. But if we could be lucky enough to win, I think everyone would concede that this game was for the national championship."

The Navy-Texas battle figures to be the headline attraction of the four-game New Year's Day program, with some 330,000 fans expected to be on hand to view the proceedings and the five All-Americans who will be on display.

"Sleep Machine" Is Called Most Devilish New Device

By BOB VOELKER

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Now comes the most devilish device of all. And the Russians are at the bottom of it.

They talked about it not too long ago—right out in the open—and there was hardly a ripple in world opinion.

It's a sleep machine.

What the Russians do is wire this sleep machine to a person—and almost presto—the person dozes off and gets the equivalent of a full night's sleep in about two hours.

Countrymen, be warned.

TO USHER FINAL ATTACK

Some day this sleep machine will usher in the final attack on humanity.

The day will come when great production lines will be turning out sleep machines like toasters. Everyone will have one. Two hours sleep will become standard.

Then what will happen if a guy does off in church? What possible excuse could he have?

And when his wife wants him to do some nasty, little job around the house, he'll never be able to use the old alibi: "I'll do it tomorrow. I'm tired."

THE SCHOOL KIDS

Consider the GIs, the millions of bored draftees who pulled the great escape by "sacking out."

The same GIs will be bearing sergeant's like this:

"Okay men, these barrack lights will be out at midnight and reveille is at 2 a.m. We got a full 22-hour schedule tomorrow."

Think of the school kids. They will be buried under mountains of homework.

Future generations will be hearing things like this:

Bartender: "See that guy on the end of the bar? I couldn't stand him when he was in here only five hours a day. Now he's here 11 hours a day."

MANY RAMIFICATIONS

Night cop: "Don't these people ever go home?"

Housewife: "George, I have many club engagements these days I simply must buy some more new clothes."

In the end, society will become sleepless. Sleepiness will be subversive. The warning will be:

"When the knock on the door comes in the middle of the night, you better not be asleep."

FIND APPLE DEMAND LIGHT

MARTINSBURG, W. Va. (AP)

—The federal-state Market News Service reports apples from the four-state Appalachian fruit belt are in light demand because of the holidays.

Many shippers and packing houses closed their offices during the Christmas Holiday. A spokesman said prices are about the same as the previous week with no change expected.

The service said the annual preholiday demand for apples did not measure up to expectations.

Export demand for apples is up, however, and some shippers say a moderate movement in January will clean up their supplies by late January or early February.

Portions of West Virginia, Virginia, Maryland and Pennsylvania make up the four-state region.

CYPRIOTS SIGN PACT TO CREATE NEUTRAL ZONE

By HAL MCCLURE

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Greek and Turkish Cypriot leaders agreed Monday to a proposal by British Commonwealth Secretary Duncan Sandys to set up a neutral zone between their fighting forces in Nicosia.

The factions also agreed to allow British troops to patrol all areas of the capital of Cyprus at the discretion of the British commander.

Sandys told newsmen the agreement accepting his proposal was signed by Archbishop Makarios, the island's Greek Cypriot president, and the Turkish Cypriot vice president, Dr. Fazil Kutchuk.

Sandys said leaders of both sides would meet daily under British chairmanship in an effort to resolve differences that pushed the eastern Mediterranean island to the brink of civil war and heightened international tension last week.

Meanwhile, Kutchuk indicated he believes peace can be assured on Cyprus only if it is partitioned between the Greek Cypriot majority and the Turkish Cypriot minority.

Kutchuk said there is "no possibility" that the two communities can live together after the past week of violence.

"Each country must be master of its own house," he said. The Turkish Cypriots demanded partition of Cyprus during the Greek Cypriot underground campaign that culminated in independence from Britain in 1960. The Greek Cypriots rejected the idea of partition.

The present shooting that began Dec. 21 subsided over the weekend.

CARROLL SHELTON DIES

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A

memorial mass will be sung at 10 a.m. Thursday in the Church of the Holy Child for Carroll Shelton, publicity director of the Democratic City Committee for the past 10 years.

Shelton died suddenly at his home here Sunday. He was 65. His death followed by 10 days spectors making a two-week study of the U.S. Farmers Home Administration.

The visiting agriculturalists from Kenya, Jordan and Nigeria will see how cooperative and agricultural credit operates in farm areas surrounding Bellefonte and Huntingdon. They arrive here Jan. 3.

Strangers Seldom Murder Strangers

CLEVELAND (AP) — Murder is largely a family affair, a New York sociologist said Monday.

At least, declared Dr. Gerhard Falk of the State University College at Buffalo, murder is a "very intimate matter, which takes place between relatives and friends and rarely between strangers."

Describing a study of various aspects of homicide, he told the American Association for the Advancement of Science that among 121 murders committed in Buffalo from 1948-1955, only 12 per cent of the victims were strangers to the killers.

The announcement followed a meeting Sunday night between station officials and civil rights leaders including representatives of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), and the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE).

CORE had staged a sit-in at the offices of WCAU, an affiliate of the CBS network, protesting the broadcast plans, but a station spokesman said the demonstration ended Sunday night, before the statement was released.

ANOTHER BLOW

The statement, issued by general manager John H. Schneidler, said: "This station will continue to exercise its judgment as to which elements of the parade are in good or bad taste. Just as we have exercised this judgment in the past, we assure the civil rights representatives that in our broadcast of this year's parade, we will not present any of the blackface elements."

Blackface received another blow Saturday when Magistrate Elias G. Myers, director of the parade, said he has instructed the judges to disqualify marchers who use it.

The city, through recreation commissioner Robert W. Crawford, had expressed disapproval of blackface make-up and asked parade judges not to award prizes to entries considered offensive to racial groups.

SHOULD THE PARTY ENDORSEMENT FALL ELSEWHERE?

However, some knowledgeable Democrats expect that he would enter the primary, anyway, and campaign on what he considered to be the issues rather than personalities.

Democrats have little doubt that a Republican incumbent Hugh Scott will be the GOP candidate.

Greek Spiritual Leader Asks Pope To Call Heads Of All Christian Faiths

By EUGENE LEVIN
VATICAN CITY (AP) — Patriarch Athenagoras I, spiritual leader of world orthodoxy, has urged Pope Paul VI to call a meeting of all Christian faiths to make common march against atheism and tyranny.

The announcement by the Vatican press office Monday came as the patriarch's see in Istanbul reported that Patriarch Athenagoras and the Pope will hold their meeting in the Holy Land next week on the Mount of Olives. It will be the first meeting in five centuries between the leaders of the two religions.

SET NO DATE

The Eastern patriarch's proposal for a pan-Christian conference made no mention of a date.

The proposal for such a conference of Catholic, Orthodox, Protestant and Anglican leaders was relayed to the Pope Saturday by Metropolitan Athenagoras of Thiatiron, an official emissary of the patriarch.

Roman Catholicism and Orthodoxy have been in schism for centuries.

Vatican sources said they did not know what Pope Paul's reaction was to the conference proposal.

The Pontiff begins a three-day Palestine pilgrimage Saturday.

POPE IS BLESSED

Vatican sources said the Pope was pleased at the prospect of taking another step toward Christian unity. Although he and his predecessor, Pope John, had meetings with leading Protestants and Anglicans, no top level Roman Catholic-Orthodox encounter previously had been arranged.

The 86-year-old Roman Catholic ruler received Metropolitan Athenagoras Saturday in a historic audience marking the first official visit to the Vatican by an emissary from the patriarch.

SINATRA CASE HEADS LIST OF TOP '63 NEWS

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — This has been another year of trial and tragedy for Hollywood.

There was death in the 1963 news as more famous figures disappeared from the Hollywood scene. Crime also figured in the headlines with a bizarre kidnapping and a murder.

But the news wasn't all bad.

Famous weddings seemed to outweigh divorces—a reversal of the usual trend. And you end the outlook for the film industry was generally bullish. Live, commercial attractions appeared to be sparking a renewal of interest in moviegoing on the part of the American public.

Here is how the year's top news stories appeared to this reporter:

BIG NAMES GONE

1. The Frank Sinatra Jr. kidnapping. Reading like something out of a Sinatra movie, it was the leading Hollywood story of 1963 and perhaps the decade.

2. Elizabeth Taylor-Richard Burton. Their romance was beginning to rival "Young Dr. Malone" for longevity of soap operatics. Sybil Burton's Mexican divorce made Eddie Fisher the "odd man out," but that problem faced solution at year's end.

3. Dick Powell-Jack Carson deaths. Coming within 24 hours, the deaths of the two fine performers underlined the continuing loss of Hollywood's great names and the cruelty of cancer.

ACADEMY AWARDS

4. Eric Johnston's death. The passing of the film industry's statesman seemed to signal a change of eras. Five months later his post as head of the producers' organization remained unfilled.

5. The Academy Awards. Oscar proved he was still capable of surprises by rewarding Anne Bancroft, Ed Begley and Patty Duke as well as the more predictable wins of Gregory Peck and "Lawrence of Arabia."

6. Frank Sinatra's Nevada fuss. His theme song for 1963 might well be one of his old numbers: "Everything Happens to Me." The singer distanced himself of gambling resort holdings after the state had cited him for entertaining a reputed gangster at Lake Tahoe.

THE NEGRO DRIVE

7. The Negro drive. Negroes sought and were getting more jobs as actors and—to a lesser degree—in production as well.

Hollywood stars participated in the march on Washington.

8. "Cleopatra." The release of the most expensive film of all time was an event in itself. It helped bring 20th Century-Fox back from the brink of financial disaster.

9. The Karyn Kupcinet murder. The strangling of the lovely and promising young actress remained unsolved a month later.

10. The multistudio plan. Fox, MGM and Columbia took the town by surprise in announcing they were considering the sharing of a studio to be built in the Malibu Mountains. While still in the talk stage, the plan held promise of a bold new period for the American film industry.

Duquesne Light Co. Denies Charges

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Duquesne Light Co. has denied charges that it discriminates against Jews and other minority groups in selecting executives.

The charge was leveled against Duquesne and 49 other utility firms across the nation on Saturday by A. M. Sonnabend, president of the American Jewish Committee.

In replying Sunday to Sonnabend, Duquesne's president and board chairman, Philip A. Fleger, said:

"We have tried to conduct the business in a way that doesn't discriminate against any group. In reference to this particular charge, we have two members of the Jewish faith on our board of directors. One of the two members of the board has been a close business associate for whom I've had the highest regard for a good number of years."

GOLDWATER COMING

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The chief attraction at a $100-a-plate Republican fund raising dinner in Pittsburgh on Jan. 29 will be Arizona Senator Barry M. Goldwater, a possible candidate for the GOP presidential nomination.

The announcement of Goldwater's appearance as chief speaker was announced Sunday. The dinner will be sponsored by the Allegheny County Republican Finance Committee.

ABC SHOW ON '60 CAMPAIGN WAS TIMELY

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "That

rowdy transaction of passion, tumult and circus called a presidential campaign" starts again in a few months. Its very closeness gave special meaning to

Sunday night's television examination of the campaign that carried John F. Kennedy into the White House—and kept

Richard M. Nixon out of it.

The Making of the President

1960," a documentary on ABC, was written by Theodore H.

White and based on his book of the same name. The program was completed a few days before the assassination of President Kennedy and was not changed because of it.

Even a 90-minute show of newsreel film, television tapes, still photographs and explanations is far too short or more than a shallow examination of the forces behind the election of a president

FASCINATING PROGRAM

It was, however, a fascinating program, recalling aspects of the campaign many of us had forgotten. I found, for example, that I had forgotten how strong a contender Lyndon B. Johnson had been for the Democratic nomination.

Interesting material included television tape made immediately before the first debate between Kennedy and Nixon. Both men looked weary, wavy and tense as they made small talk and received instructions on debate procedures.

There still are some things that can be done better in book form, and a treatise on a presidential campaign obviously is one of them.

NBC's Sunday afternoon "The Law and Lee Oswald" was a round-table discussion which raised the question of whether

Oswald, accused assassin of Kennedy, could have received a fair trial. Only one of four lawyers, a Dallas attorney named

Leon Douglas, thought so.

10. The multistudio plan. Fox,

MGM and Columbia took the town by surprise in announcing they were considering the sharing of a studio to be built in the Malibu Mountains. While still in

Senator Gets Elephant C.O.D.

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — State Sen. Don Kennard of Fort Worth found himself the owner Saturday of a 635-pound baby elephant.

There also was a $1,400 shipping charge.

The San Francisco customs agent assured Kennard it was no joke and, in addition to the shipping fee, the elephant must remain in quarantine for 10 days at $38 per day.

The gift is from Bill Newbold, a former local television camerman who is now an information officer for the State Department in Cambodia.

"How anyone could convince the people in Cambodia to send such a thing to me like that C.O.D. is beyond me," the senator moaned.

York Springs

MRS. F. E. COULSON

YORK SPRINGS — David Nye,

11, who was accidentally shot in the leg seven weeks ago, has returned to his home after having been a patient in the Warner Hospital where he underwent skin graft. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Nye.

The Crusader Class of the Mt. Olivet Reformed Church will sponsor a skating party at the Mary Jane Rink Friday evening.

Christmas Day guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Martin were Rev. and Mrs. William Kennard and Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Cutchall and daughter, Darlene, St. Thomas, and Miss Ruth Croft, Marks, Pa.

The Mary Jane Skating Rink will hold a New Year's Eve skating party from 8 to 1 o'clock.

The discussion, however, swung to the basic, deeper conflict spotlighted by the Oswald case. On one hand there was the right of any defendant to a fair trial. On the other, there was the right of the public to be fully informed.

Newton Minow, former federal communications commissioner, suggested both would have been better served had there been one central authority to deal with the broadcasters and press.

GOLD NAMES GONE

1. The Frank Sinatra Jr. kidnapping. Reading like something out of a Sinatra movie, it was the leading Hollywood story of 1963 and perhaps the decade.

2. Elizabeth Taylor-Richard Burton. Their romance was beginning to rival "Young Dr. Malone" for longevity of soap operatics. Sybil Burton's Mexican divorce made Eddie Fisher the "odd man out," but that problem faced solution at year's end.

3. Dick Powell-Jack Carson. Coming within 24 hours, the deaths of the two fine performers underlined the continuing loss of Hollywood's great names and the cruelty of cancer.

ACADEMY AWARDS

4. Eric Johnston's death. The passing of the film industry's statesman seemed to signal a change of eras. Five months later his post as head of the producers' organization remained unfilled.

5. The Academy Awards. Oscar proved he was still capable of surprises by rewarding Anne Bancroft, Ed Begley and Patty Duke as well as the more predictable wins of Gregory Peck and "Lawrence of Arabia."

6. Frank Sinatra's Nevada floss. His theme song for 1963 might well be one of his old numbers: "Everything Happens to Me." The singer divested himself of gambling resort holdings after the state had cited him for entertaining a reputed gangster at Lake Tahoe.

THE NEGRO DRIVE

7. The Negro drive. Negroes sought and were getting more jobs as actors and—to a lesser degree—in production as well. Hollywood stars participated in the march on Washington.

8. "Cleopatra." The release of the most expensive film of all time was an event in itself. It helped bring 20th Century-Fox back from the brink of financial disaster.

9. The Karyn Kupcinet murder. The strangling of the lovely and promising young actress remained unsolved a month later.

10. The multistudio plan. Fox, MGM and Columbia took the town by surprise in announcing they were considering the sharing of a studio to be built in the Malibu Mountains. While still in the talk stage, the plan held promise of a bold new period for the American film industry.

Duquesne Light Co. Denies Charges

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Duquesne Light Co. has denied charges that it discriminates against Jews and other minority groups in selecting executives.

The charge was leveled against Duquesne and 49 other utility firms across the nation on Saturday by A. M. Sonnabend, president of the American Jewish Committee.

In replying Sunday to Sonnabend, Duquesne's president and board chairman, Philip A. Fleger, said:

"We have tried to conduct the business in a way that doesn't discriminate against any group. In reference to this particular charge, we have two members of the Jewish faith on our board of directors. One of the two members of the board has been a close business associate for whom I've had the highest regard for a good number of years."

GOLDWATER COMING

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The chief attraction at a $100-a-plate Republican fund raising dinner in Pittsburgh on Jan. 29 will be Arizona Senator Barry M. Goldwater, a possible candidate for the GOP presidential nomination.

The announcement of Goldwater's appearance as chief speaker was announced Sunday. The dinner will be sponsored by the Allegheny County Republican Finance Committee.

ABC SHOW ON '60 CAMPAIGN WAS TIMELY

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "That rowdy transaction of passion, tumult and circus called a presidential campaign" starts again in a few months. Its very closeness gave special meaning to Sunday night's television examination of the campaign that carried John F. Kennedy into the White House—and kept Richard M. Nixon out of it.

"The Making of the President 1960," a documentary on ABC, was written by Theodore H. White and based on his book of the same name. The program was completed a few days before the assassination of President Kennedy and was not changed because of it.

Even a 90-minute show of newsreel film, television tapes, still photographs and explanations is far too short for more than a shallow examination of the forces behind the election of a president.

FASCINATING PROGRAM

It was, however, a fascinating program, recalling aspects of the campaign many of us had forgotten. I found, for example, that I had forgotten how strong a contender Lyndon B. Johnson had been for the Democratic nomination.

Interesting material included interesting tape made immediately before the first debate between Kennedy and Nixon. Both men looked weary, wary and tense as they made small talk and received instructions on debate procedures.

There still are some things that can be done better in book form, and a treatise on a presidential campaign obviously is one of them.

NBC's Sunday afternoon "The Law and Lee Oswald" was a round-table discussion which raised the question of whether Oswald, accused assassin of Kennedy, could have received a fair trial. Only one of four lawyers, a Dallas attorney named Leon Douglas, thought so.

Newton Minow, former federal communications commissioner, suggested both would have been better served had there been one central authority to deal with the broadcasters and press.

Senator Gets Elephant C.O.D.

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — State Sen. Don Kennard of Fort Worth found himself the owner Saturday of a 635-pound baby elephant.

There also was a $1,400 shipping charge.

The San Francisco customs agent assured Kennard it was no joke and, in addition to the shipping fee, the elephant must remain in quarantine for 10 days at $38 per day.

The gift is from Bill Newbold, a former local television cameraman who is now an information officer for the State Department in Cambodia.

"How anyone could convince the people in Cambodia to send such a thing to me like that C.O.D. is beyond me," the senator moaned.

YORK SPRINGS

MRS. F. E. COULSON
YORK SPRINGS — David Nye,

11, who was accidentally shot in the leg seven weeks ago, has returned to his home after having been a patient in the Warner Hospital where he underwent skin graft. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Nye.

The Crusader Class of the Mt. Olivet Reformed Church will sponsor a skating party at the Mary Jane Rink Friday evening.

Christmas Day guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Martin were Rev. and Mrs. William Kennard and Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Cutchall and daughter, Darlene, St. Thomas, and Miss Ruth Croft, Marks, Pa.

The Mary Jane Skating Rink will hold a New Year's Eve skating party from 8 to 1 o'clock.

The discussion, however, swung to the basic, deeper conflict spotlighted by the Oswald case. On one hand there was the right of any defendant to a fair trial. On the other, there was the right of the public to be fully informed.

Newton Minow, former federal communications commissioner, suggested both would have been better served had there been one central authority to deal with the broadcasters and press.

News Briefs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Capitol physician reports that former House Speaker Joe Martin of Massachusetts is recovering from a "touch of virus" that sent him to the hospital by ambulance.

Dr. George W. Calver said Martin, 79, was doing well.

Martin's aides said he will stay in the hospital another day or two as a precaution.

ENCINO, Calif. (AP) — Police said screenwriter Alyce Canfield Jerome, 45, committed suicide by jumping from a freeway overpass into the path of two cars Saturday night.

She worked as a writer and executive producer in the television series, "Underground USA," and wrote under the name of Alyce Canfield.

A communiqué issued Sunday after their meetings declared that Johnson and Erhard were agreed "that it is highly important to continue to explore all opportunities for the improvement of East-West relations, the easing of tensions, and the enlargement of the prospects off a peace that can be stable because it is just."

This was qualified, though, with a declaration that there "should be no arrangement" that would perpetuate a divided Germany.

Erhard, holding a news conference at Austin's Bergstrom Air Force Base just before his jet transport left for Bonn, emphasized a willingness to explore "new alleys" that might lead to agreements with the Soviet Union.

TWO LEADERS IN ACCORD ON RED POLICIES

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson's first venture into the deep water of personal diplomacy was a success, according to German and American informants who had a part in his two-day meeting with West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard.

If nothing else, the two new leaders in the West's struggle with the East got to know each other and reached "full agreement and understanding."

The phrase is a stock one in the copy book of diplomats. But this time, said Erhard, "it is not a diplomatic statement. It is just the truth."

"Sleep Machine" Is Called Most Devilish New Device

By BOB VOELKER

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Now comes the most devilish device of all. And the Russians are at the bottom of it.

They talked about it not too long ago—right out in the open—and there was hardly a ripple in world opinion.

It's a sleep machine.

What the Russians do is wire this sleep machine to a person—and almost presto—the person dozes off and gets the equivalent of a full night's sleep in about two hours.

Countrymen be warned.

TO USHER FINAL ATTACK

Some day this sleep machine will be in the final attack on humanity.

The day will come when great production lines will be turning out sleep machines like toasters. Everyone will have one. Two hours sleep will become standard.

Then what will happen if a guy dozes off in church? What possible excuse could he have?

And when his wife wants him to do some nasty little job around the house, he'll never be able to use the old alibi: "I'll do it tomorrow. I'm tired."

THE SCHOOL KIDS

Consider the GIs, the millions of bored draftees who pulled the great escape by "sacking out."

The same GIs will be hearing sergeants talk like this:

"Okay men, these barrack lights will be out at midnight and reveille is at 2 a.m. We got a full 22-hour schedule tomorrow."

Think of the school kids. They will be buried under mountains of homework.

Future generations will be hearing things like this:

here 11 hours a day."

MANY RAMIFICATIONS

Night cop. "Don't these people ever go home?"

Housewife "George, I have so many club engagements these days I simply must buy some more new clothes."

In the end, society will become sleepless. Sleepiness will be subversive. The warning will be:

"When the knock on the door comes in the middle of the night, you better not be asleep."

FIND APPLE DEMAND LIGHT

MARTINSBURG, W. Va. (AP)

—The federal-state Market News Service reports apples from the four-state Appalachian fruit belt are in light demand because of the holidays.

Many shippers and packing houses closed their offices during the Christmas Holiday. A spokesman said prices are about the same as the previous week with no change expected.

The service said the annual preholiday demand for apples did not measure up to expectations.

Export demand for apples is up, however, and some shippers say a moderate movement in January will clean up their supplies by late January or early February.

Portions of West Virginia, Virginia, Maryland and Pennsylvania make up the four-state region.

CYPRIOTS SIGN PACT TO CREATE NEUTRAL ZONE

By HAL McCLURE

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Greek and Turkish Cypriot leaders agreed Monday to a proposal by British Commonwealth Secretary Duncan Sandys to set up a neutral zone between their fighting forces in Nicosia.

The factions also agreed to allow British troops to patrol all areas of the capital of Cyprus at the discretion of the British commander.

Sandys told newsmen the agreement accepting his proposals was signed by Archbishop Makarios, the island's Greek Cypriot president, and the Turkish Cypriot vice president, Dr. Fazil Kutchuk.

Sandys said leaders of both sides would meet daily under British chairmanship in an effort to resolve differences that pushed the eastern Mediterranean island to the brink of civil war and heightened international tension last week.

Meanwhile, Kutchuk indicated he believes peace can be assured on Cyprus only if it is partitioned between the Greek Cypriot majority and the Turkish Cypriot minority.

Kutchuk said there is "no possibility" that the two communities can live together after the past week of violence.

"Each country must be master of its own house," he said. The Turkish Cypriots demanded partition of Cyprus during the Greek Cypriot underground campaign that culminated in independence from Britain in 1960. The Greek Cypriots rejected the idea of partition.

The present shooting that began Dec. 21 subsided over the weekend.

Strangers Seldom Murder Strangers

CLEVELAND (AP) — Murder is largely a family affair, a New York sociologist said Monday.

At least, declared Dr. Gerhard Falk of the State University College at Buffalo, murder is a "very intimate matter, which takes place between relatives and friends and rarely between strangers."

Describing a study of various aspects of homicide, he told the American Association for the Advancement of Science that among 121 murders committed in Buffalo from 1948-1955, only 12 per cent of the victims were strangers to the killers.

The announcement followed a meeting Sunday night between station officials and civil rights leaders including representatives of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), and the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE).

CORE had staged a sit-in at the offices of WCAU, an affiliate of the CBS network, protesting the broadcast plans, but a station spokesman said the demonstration ended Sunday night, before the statement was released.

ANOTHER BLOW

The statement, issued by general manager John H. Schneidler, said: "This station will continue to exercise its judgment as to which elements of the parade are in good or bad taste. Just as we have exercised this judgment in the past, we assumed the civil rights representatives that in our broadcast of this year's parade, we will not present any of the blackface elements."

Blackface received another blow Saturday when Magistrate Elias G. Myers, director of the parade, said he has instructed the judges to disqualify marchers who use it.

The city, through recreation commissioner Robert W. Crawford, had expressed disapproval of blackface make-up and asked parade judges not to award prizes to entries considered offensive to racial groups.

should the party endorsement fall elsewhere.

However, some knowledgeable Democrats expect that he would enter the primary, anyway, and campaign on what he considered to be the issues rather than personalities.

Democrats have little doubt that Republican incumbent Hugh Scott will be the GOP candidate.

The wealthy Philadelphian, more noted for his civic achievements than his political experiences, has not committed himself publicly on his plans of the Rep. William J. Green Jr., D-Pa., chairman of the committee.

FEAR TROUBLE ON BLACKFACE UNITS JAN. 1

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Philadelphia television station WCAU-TV issued a pledge early Monday that it will not include parades made up in blackface, in its broadcast coverage of the New Year's Day Mummers Parade.

LOCK HAVEN Pa. (AP) —

Authorities are investigating to determine the cause of a fire which Sunday destroyed the Jersey Shore Steel Co. plant at South Avis, 10 miles east of Lock Haven.

No injuries were reported. There was no immediate estimate of the dollar damage.

Six companies fought the fire for three hours. Authorities believe it may have broken out in the boiler room of the big brick and steel building.

The building housed car shops of the New York Central Railroad before it was converted into a steel plant. The company employs 225 men, some of whom were at work when the fire started.

Mrs. Scranton Enjoys Life In State Role, Regrets Lack Of Time For Her Children

By DAVE LEHERR

HARRISBURG (AP) — She may be dancing barefoot at an inaugural ball. She may be slogging around in ankle deep mud at a ski lift. She may be hopping over a railing to shake hands with a little boy.

Or she may be at the Executive Mansion at Indianstown Gap, playing host to the top officials of state and federal government. That's the way it is with Mary Scranton, Pennsylvania's vibrant first lady.

VERY UNPREDICTABLE

Mrs. Scranton, formerly Mary L. Chamberlin, probably best described herself the night her husband broke into an impromptu "Charleston" at his inauguration dance.

"I think it's much more fun to be natural and not just sit up at a head table or ride in a car," she said in explanation. "I love to see children and talk to them and get their reaction."

TIGHT ROPE ROLE

But Mary Scranton also finds her role as First Lady somewhat like walking a tightrope; she loves the part, but doesn't want to overdo it.

"In the campaign I was busy campaigning, I knew what I was doing. I was out to meet as many people as I could," she recalled. "Now that Bill is in office, it's nice going around and saying hello to people, but that's what 1964 is. Also, Congress' job performance this year has been widely criticized.

RECEIVED BUNDLE

There has been considerable agitation for a pay raise, from $22,500 a year to $32,500. But congressmen are notoriously nervous about raising their pay during an election year, and that's what 1964 is. Also, Congress' job performance this year has been widely criticized.

"You will find us very unpredictable," she smiled as reporters gathered around.

Today after a year as First Lady, she feels the same.

"We have fun being unpredictable," she laughed in an interview shortly before Christmas. "But then I think anybody in this job has to be."

MOTEL STOP

Probably the favorite story her friends enjoy telling is the afternoon she and the governor stopped at a Norristown motel for an hour rest before making an evening appearance there.

Having been on the road all day, their clothes were wrinkled so the Scrantons sent them to be pressed. The well-meaning motel owner also shut off the telephones to the Scranton room so the couple could get some rest.

An hour and fifteen minutes later, no clothes. The governor tried the phone, but it was dead. Finally, Mary, wrapped in a bedspread, pinned with a "Scranton - Van Zandt" campaign pin, dashed to the next room and asked her neighbors to call for the clothes. The Scrantons were on their way in 15 minutes.

"I guess I do things like that pretty often," she laughed.

SHOELESS TOUR

She chuckled too when reminded of the time she took her shoes off while touring a factory, and the time she was stuck for two hours several hundred feet in the air on a ski lift at Elk Mountain.

Many incidents she didn't remember at all. Like Inauguration Day when she literally

PAY RAISE FOR CONGRESS IS VERY UNLIKELY

By J. W. DAVIS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The possibility that Congress might vote itself a pay raise next year seems to be growing weaker.

The chance that Congress will require its members to disclose all their financial sources looks even slimmer—slim to point of no chance in sight.

There has been considerable agitation for a pay raise, from $22,500 a year to $32,500. But congressmen are notoriously nervous about raising their pay during an election year, and that's what 1964 is. Also, Congress' job performance this year has been widely criticized.

RECEIVED BUNDLE

Already there has been a revival, on a small scale, of the "Bundles for Congress" campaign that infuriated and alarmed a good many of the senators and representatives in the 1940s.

In that satirical campaign, taxpayers sent packages of second-hand clothes to members of Congress who were complaining about how hard up they were and how much they needed a raise.

Last month a bundle of old clothes from the "Senior Citizens of Tioga County, Sabinsville, Pa.," arrived at the House Post Office and Civil Service Committee, which had approved the pay raise bill.

The donors said they hoped the gift "will help tide you over."

SOME VOLUNTEER

A comparative handful of Congress members have voluntarily made statements of their income in addition to salary.

The idea of requiring disclosure of income sources is to discourage conflicts of interest, to guard against official actions for private gain. If a senator was known to hold stock in a certain company, for example, he might hesitate to vote for legislation that would help that company.

But most members aren't eager to bare all. They take the stand that, unless the personal income affairs of every citizen are a matter of public record, there is no sound reason Congress members should be singled out.

TWO CONCLUSIONS

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., one of those who has provided a statement of his finances.

But, in saying he would back a bill to require similar disclosures by all members of Congress, Hart pointed to a contradictory situation.

"If a man reveals himself to she sighed. "But we're getting used to it."

Mary Scranton shies away from the talk of her husband running for the Republican nomination for president next year.

PLANS YEAR OFF

She claims both she and the governor plan to take a sabbatical year after his four years as Pennsylvania's chief executive.

"We've been pushing ever since we were married. The war, the Army, going from one difficult job to another in a time of crisis. We want to take a little while to catch our breath, do a little thinking, a little traveling and be with the family."

As for her husband's first year in office, she summed it up this way:

"I said when he came into office he was going to be one of the best governors Pennsylvania ever had and I see no reason whatever to change my mind. He's accomplished a great deal this first year, not only in specific legislation, but he's also started Pennsylvanians taking a new look at themselves and adding a measure of pride that they are Pennsylvanians."

TOKYO (AP) — The U.S. Air Force is going to transfer 3,500 men and 78 planes—including its last operational B-57 bombardment wing—from Japan to the United States.

This major realignment of U.S. air strength was confirmed today by Lt. Gen. Maurice A. Preston, commander of U.S. forces in Japan, and the U.S. Embassy. Neither would give any details.

An informed source disclosed the United States is negotiating additional Air Force withdrawals but has assured the Japanese it will honor its pledge under the U.S.-Japan security treaty to defend Japan from attack.

Planes to be withdrawn are 48 B-57s, 14 F-100 tactical fighters and 16 C-134 troop transports.

This will mean the deactivation of the 5th Air Force's B-57 wing, last of the big bombers still operational in the U.S. Air Force. The 5th Air Force, with headquarters at Fuchu Air Base outside of Tokyo, is the bulwark of U.S. air strength in Japan.

VOTE "MOST SPECTACULAR" TITLE TO ROGER

NEW YORK (AP) — There were Larry Rakestraw's 26 completions for a record 405 yards for Georgia in a game against Miami.

There were the seven touch-down tosses by Northern Illinois' George Bork against Whitewater, Wis. State.

There were the three touch-down passes caught by Oregon State end Verne Burke against Southern California.

DISAGREE ON GAME

And there was the game in which Billy Lothridge kicked three field goals, two extra points, threw two touchdown passes and averaged 40 yards on six punts against Duke.

But the season's most spectacular one-game performance on the football field according to an Associated Press poll of the nation's sports writers and sportscasters, belonged to Jolly Roger Staubach, Navy's brilliant and the AP's All-America quarterback.

The experts were not unanimous on which of Staubach's performances was the most spectacular but they agreed that the scholarly-looking Heisman and Maxwell Trophy winner provided thrills and heroes in virtually all of his performances on the gridiron.

"AT HIS JOELIEST"

"I nominate the game in which Staubach completed 14 of 16 passes for 237 yards against Michigan, passing for two touch-downs and scoring another," wrote one expert.

"How about Roger's 12 completions in 17 attempts for 208 yards against William and Mary when he also ran 91 yards and scored a touchdown?" offered another.

"Staubach was at his jolliest against Duke, running 12 times for 72 yards, completing 14 passes for 122 and scoring twice," said another.

"For the most spectacular one-game performance," a voter said, "I nominate Staubach in any one of his games."

OTHER NOMINATIONS

In all, 15 of the 63 voters selected Staubach's performances as the most spectacular. Eight picked Rakestraw's brilliant effort against Miami Oct. 18. Six thought Bork's multiple touch-said the Japanese government agreed to the withdrawals in recognition of the need for "the most efficient use" of military resources to meet the United States' global commitments.

In Washington, a Pentagon spokesman also declined to elaborate on the realignment.

An informed source in Japan gave these details:

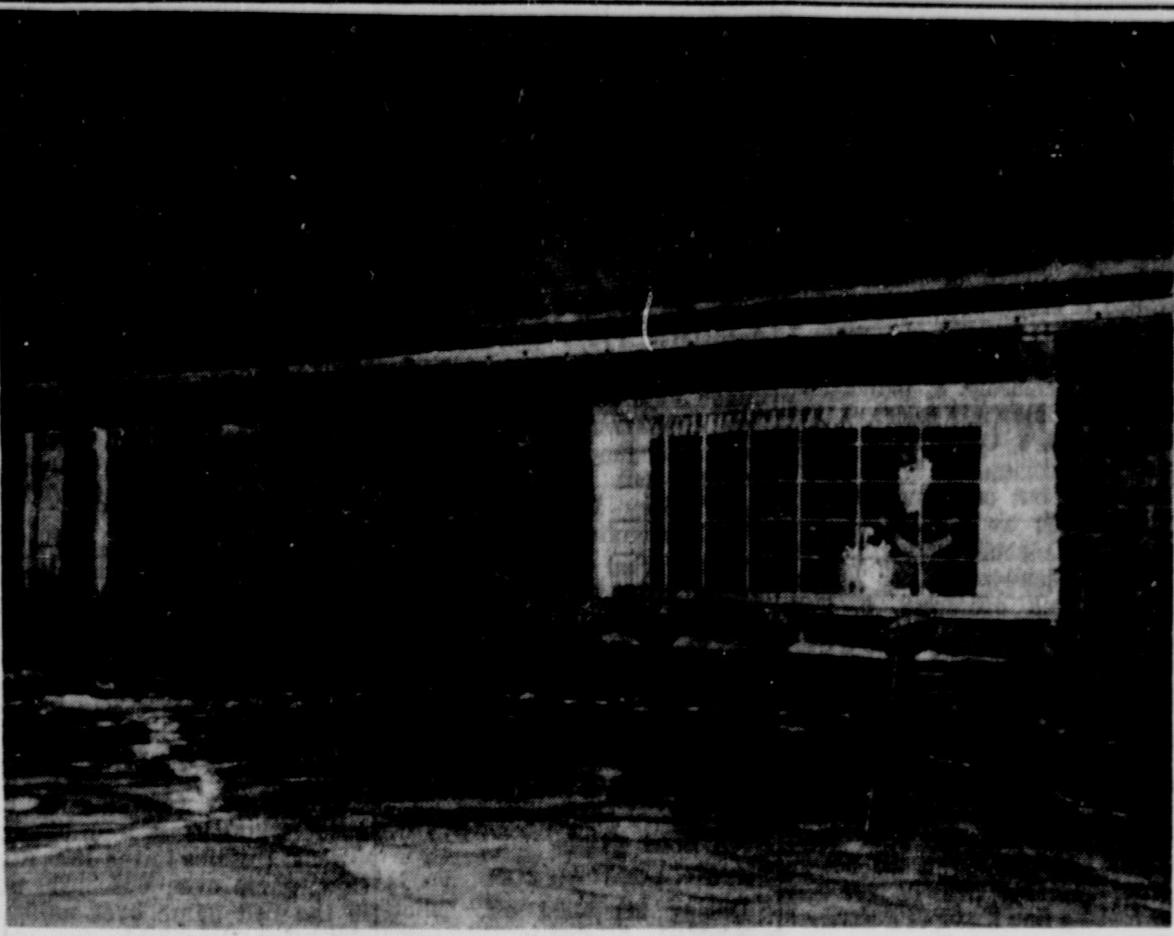

The initial withdrawals are expected to be completed by next fall. Some 2,000 U.S. dependents also will be returned home, and about 2,400 Japanese employees at U.S. bases are expected to lose their jobs.

No reductions are planned in Army, Navy or Marine personnel, who comprise 20,200 men. Total U.S. military strength in Japan is 46,000 men. With them are 54,000 dependents and 3,000 American civilian employees.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Today is Tuesday, the 365th day of 1968. This is the last day of the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1781, the president of the Continental Congress, Henry Laurens, was released from the Tower of London in exchange for Gen. Cornwallis. En route to Holland as U.S. minister, Laurens' ship had been captured by the British who kept the American in prison for 15 months on suspicion of high treason.

Judging from the regime's own accounts, it combines the worst features of a 1948-style Communist satellite with a superabundance of confusion. It has food shortages, rationing, high prices, low wages, economic chaos—and something looking like the beginning of a forced labor movement.

REMAINS MENACE

Castro remains a menace in the eyes of most of the Americans. He is a source of satisfaction for the Red Chinese, a necessary nuisance for the Russians and a heavy burden for Cuba.

A military parade, a mass demonstration and a long Castro speech will celebrate events of New Year's Eve of 1958, when dictator Fulgencio Batista fled the island, leaving it to Castro's 26th of July guerrillas.

So chaotic is the economy that a recently promulgated law of compulsory military service seemed an economic rather than a military measure. FLOOD DAMAGES

Floods in early summer and Hurricane Flora later on left the economy in an even more bewildering tangle than communism had produced by itself. There are shortages of everything.

Prices are high, wages low, and at that, government taxes eat up 20 per cent of even the lowest wages. There are constant campaigns against stealing, embezzlement and similar crimes, but even death sentences fail to stem them.

Castro leans toward the Red Chinese idea of violent revolution regardless of possible consequences, as opposed to the Moscow idea of avoiding risk of international conflict.

But Castro has little choice but to remain quiet in the dispute. His Moscow ties are all that bolster his regime. He is in no position to give overt support to the Red Chinese.

Sees Record Peak For State Budget

HARRISBURG (AP)—Budget secretary Martin H. Brackbill expects that the state's General Fund budget for the 1964-65 fiscal year will total near the $1.2 billion mark—a record high for the Commonwealth.

He attributed the higher spending to "all the mandated increases voted by past legislative sessions," but added that he was optimistic that no new taxes would be needed to meet the increase.

Gov. Scranton is scheduled to present his new budget request to the General Assembly when that body convenes in new session Jan. 7.

Brackbill said Saturday he expects to have the budget recommendations on Scranton's desk when the chief executive returns after New Year's Day from a holiday vacation.

On this date:

In 1862, President Abraham Lincoln signed an act admitting West Virginia to the Union.

In 1916, the monk who dominated the Russian court—Rasputin—was murdered at a dinner party in Leiningrad.

In 1945, Bermuda voted to end its long-standing ban on the use of automobiles on the island.

Ten years ago—British Prime Minister Sir Winston Churchill said the possibility of international conflict had been reduced by the growing strength of the free world and its desire to reach just and honorable agreement, embezzlement and similar crimes, but even death sentences fail to stem them.

Fidel Castro's regime is 5 years old now. New Year's Day. His Communist dictatorship in Cuba seems messier than ever.

Judging from the regime's own accounts, it combines the worst features of a 1948-style Communist satellite with a superabundance of confusion. It has food shortages, rationing, high prices, low wages, economic chaos—and something looking like the beginning of a forced labor movement.

PETE ELLIOTT JOGS LISTLESS ILLINI SQUAD

By JERRY LISKA

Associated Press Sports Writer

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Coach Pete Elliott gave his Big Ten champion Illinois football team a tongue lashing with time running out before its New Year's Day Rose Bowl game with Washington's Huskies.

The verbal fireworks came during a Sunday drill in which Elliott said he thought the Illini performed "sort of dead and listless."

For about six minutes, Pete peppered his players with a sharp criticism of what he said struck him as a nonchalant attitude toward preparation for the Rose Bowl game.

PSYCHOLOGICAL JOB

During his blast off, Elliott suggested pointedly that any player not ready for an all-out effort New Year's Day should stay in his hotel room.

Elliott's outburst appeared to most observers to be mainly a psychological jab to keep his Illini from viewing Washington—owning a lackluster 6-4 season record—as a soft Rose Bowl touch.

Pete told writers he was keenly aware of the Huskies' giant killer talent in Rose Bowl com-

AWAIT FEDERAL AID FOR STADIUM

WASHINGTON (AP)—The fate of Philadelphia's proposed new sports stadium may be in the hands of one man—Commissioner William L. Slayton of the federal Urban Renewal Administration.

Slayton said Sunday he will visit the chosen site at the Pennsylvania Railroad's 30th Street Station, shortly after New Year's Day and will decide if the area is considered blighted, and therefore eligible for federal redevelopment funds.

Stuart T. Saunders, PRR board chairman, said Thursday that the stadium project "simply cannot be undertaken without the assistance of the Federal Redevelopment Authority."

REMEMBER '60 AND '61

Elliott was referring to the upset triumphs scored by Jim Owens' Huskies in the 1960 Rose Bowl game over Wisconsin and in the 1961 game over national champion Minnesota.

Much has been made of the play of All-America center Dick Butkus in the Illini parade to a 7-1 record and No. 3 ranking in the final Associated Press poll.

Elliott scoffed at Illinois' seven-point favoritism to score the school's third victory in as many starts since Ray Eliot's Illini launched the current Big Ten-Big Six Rose Bowl feud in 1947.

BEARS TO GET ABOUT $6,000

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Bears can count on $6,000 each and the New York Giants about $4,200 but it isn't official.

Until the National Football League comes up with an official breakdown on the financial figures of Sunday's championship final, it is strictly an estimate.

Commissioner Pete Rozelle had to hold off on final figures, pending a statement on the closed circuit TV receipts from three Chicago arenas. They had reported a 70 per cent sale Saturday.

The paid attendance of 45,801 at Wrigley Field piled up a gross gate estimated at $500,000. The TV receipts were $26,000. Of this total $450,000 went to the pension fund and $92,600 to the league office. The remaining $398,400 went into the game receipts.

VOLCANIC ISLAND FORMS OFF ICELAND

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP)—A new volcanic island is believed forming off Iceland's south coast.

Three new underwater volcanoes began erupting Sunday about 13 miles off the Vestmannayjar Islands, a mile north of the active volcanic island of Surtsey, which formed Nov. 14.

Wyeth Painting Brings $45,000

NEW YORK (AP)—Andrew Wyeth's painting "The Cloisters"—donated by an anonymous contributor—was sold for $45,000 Sunday night.

"The Cloisters" was auctioned at the American Pageant of Fashion and the Arts dinner in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

The $100-a-plate affair was a benefit for the national cultural center in Washington and the American Shakespeare Festival Theater in Stratford, Conn.

Wyeth, 46, was at his home at Chadds Ford, Pa. "The Cloisters," painted there in 1949, shows a porcelain parrot sitting alone on a bench against a sun-streaked timbered wall.

SAVES CHANGE IN TRUCK TANK

CARAWAY, Ark. (AP)—The Leroy Gauf family of Caraway has found something better than the old piggy bank for saving change and it paid for their vacation this summer.

Back in 1961 Gauf began dropping his extra pocket change each day into the gas tank of his farm truck. Came vacation time this year, he pulled off the tank and shook it until out came $194.59.

Jim Keller, who started at quarterback for Texas A & M this fall, was admitted to the school on a basketball scholarship.

Most Little Guys Had Pretty Good Year In '63

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—The little guy, any little guy going home this New Year's Eve, felt like a man blowing feathers. He tried to clear his head of a lot of things but they floated back and stuck.

It had been a good year for him, in a way. He had a job, which millions didn't. There hadn't been any war, or even fear of war, at least in this country. Next year looked peaceful, too.

But he felt a little uneasy. He didn't have any illusions about peace in the world. Peace, he knew, was like a blanket on a nest of tigers. Even when they were quiet they were hungry.

DIFFERENT THIS YEAR

That wasn't really what made him uneasy. There had been other New Year's Eves when he went home, just as he was going now, and thinking just about the same thoughts, most always about himself.

Now it wasn't so much about himself. That was the difference. Something outside himself and bigger than himself had troubled and hurt him like a pain ever since that day when President John F. Kennedy was killed.

It had spoiled the taste of life for him a bit. Christmas hadn't been the same for him as any other Christmas. Now New Year's Eve wasn't, either.

KILLED FOR NOTHING

A brilliant young man, a father and a president, a good man, for no one could say he wasn't, suddenly dead, shot like a tin can and maybe for just about as much reason.

To this day the little guy didn't know the reason and had never even heard one. Nobody seemed to know. That made everything worse. Even a completely crazy reason would have been more understandable than none.

So far as he knew the president had been killed for nothing. Lee Harvey Oswald had been charged with it but Oswald had been killed, too, before his story could come out and for a reason that also isn't clear.

MADE HIM THINK

It made the little guy think about the things he had managed not to think much about as the years went by and he grew older and his children grew up.

It was the things about the world he lived in, the real one, not the little one he inhabited which was pretty much limited to the office and the people on the street where he lived and a few friends.

PEDESTRIAN IS KILLED

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—George W. Doyle, 63, of Upper Darby was struck and killed by a hit-run auto today on Lansdowne Avenue near 66th Street, the police said.

LONG SESSION ENDS MONDAY FOR CONGRESS

In the office, on his street, among his friends he had seen spats and spites, some of them very unpleasant.

But the people he knew somehow managed to get along or, when they didn't, they backed away from one another and walked another road, even if it had been made lonelier by a harsh word that could never be withdrawn.

HOPING BUT UNSURE

Thus Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield let his colleagues know, if they didn't already, that the drawn-out 1963 session of the 88th Congress was "just a beginning."

The battles over civil rights legislation and tax reduction had been only postponed and still lay ahead, although Democratic leaders express confidence both measures will be enacted.

FALSE STARTS

Adjournment Monday came as an anticlimax after the false starts, angry words and pre-dawn session during the holiday rush when the drive to close up shop was blocked by the foreign aid appropriation bill.

The Senate completed action on the battered $3 billion measure Monday including the provision giving the President discretionary authority to approve government guarantees of credit for private commodity sales to the Soviet bloc.

With this out of the way the Senate adjourned at 2:19 p.m. and the House made it official at 2:51 p.m. after a one-minute session.

EXPECT BARRY TO ENTER RACE

By WALTER R. MEARS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater's Republican Senate colleagues got their bets down today—and the smart money was on a bid for the White House by the Arizona conservative.

Goldwater gives his yes or no Friday at a meeting of Arizona Republican leaders in his native Phoenix.

The setting, his hilltop home overlooking the city, and the audience of state GOP leaders Goldwater chose seemed to hint he might plan to talk about an Arizona race—for re-election to his Senate seat.

But Goldwater spread word of his plans in a telegram Monday to his supporters across the country.

As senators scattered from Washington for the New Year's holiday, they put the odds on a Goldwater plunge into the race for the GOP presidential nomination.

Two of Goldwater's top supporters—talking like insiders—said they are confident he will declare himself a candidate.

Kidnappers' Bail Is Cut To $30,000

LOS ANGELES (AP)—John Irwin, one of three men accused of kidnapping Frank Sintara Jr., says he "went along to make sure no one got hurt."

Irwin, 42, talked with newsmen briefly Monday after a federal judge reduced his bail from $50,000 to $30,000.

He said he was innocent of any part in the kidnapping of young Sinatra at Lake Tahoe.

The young singer was kidnapped from a Stateline, Calif. motel Dec. 8. Three days later he was returned to his parents in Los Angeles for a $240,000 ransom.

Irwin said he spent only about $31 of the $48,000 in ransom money he received.

"I bought some toys for my kids and something for my wife," he said, "but I had a check in my pocket and I honestly intended to cash it and make up the difference."

"Voluntary" Cuts Slash Cubans' Pay

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—"Voluntary savings" take 20 million pesos monthly from Cuban pay checks, the anti-Castro Revolutionary Workers Federation said today.

The exile organization said pressure is put on workers to make ample deposits in the government savings system. It quoted a recently arrived refugee, Arnaldo Machado, as saying there is so much red tape that workers can't withdraw deposits.

Average deposits by 2 million workers, the report said, are 10 pesos monthly. A peso is officially pegged at $1.

SCRANTON IN OREGON RACE

HARRISBURG (AP)—A peculiarity in Oregon's election laws has forced Gov. Scranton to allow his name to appear on that state's Republican presidential primary ballot, his office said Monday.

The primary will be held next May 15.

Under Oregon law, the state's secretary of state must list by March 6 all potential GOP candidates whose names have been mentioned in national news media. This, of course, includes Scranton.

Scranton's office said the only way a candidate may remove his name from the ballot is to take an oath that he has no intention of becoming a presidential candidate under any circumstances.

The governor's aides contend Scranton would take no such oath because of his repeated statements that he would accept a "sincere" draft.

Today In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

UDALL-OIL: Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall says he is the Interior Department official who will make final decisions on matters concerning the oil industry.

The final decisions will be made by me, after consulting with appropriate officials," Udall told a news conference Monday. President Johnson recently granted the Interior Department authority to speak for the administration on all oil matters.

Udall added: "The buck stops right on this desk. It will be my responsibility, and if there is criticism coming, it should come to me—I can take it."

CHANGES IN CONSTITUTION OF PA. URGED

HARRISBURG (AP)—Two proposed amendments to the state constitution were given tentative approval Monday by the governor's Commission on Constitutional Revision.

At the same time, the commission took two other proposals under advisement. All four had been submitted by the Pennsylvania Bar Association.

The 29-member commission, headed by former Atty. Gen. William A. Schnader of Philadelphia, was named by Scranton after voters last month rejected a constitutional convention question on the ballot.

TO GOVERNOR

The commission expects to hand all of its recommendations to the governor by an. 17. It meets here again next Monday and in Philadelphia Jan. 13-15.

Proposals which received tentative approval deal with the state's declaration of rights and portions of the 89-year-old basic law regarding public officials. Held back were proposed amendments to the legislative and executive articles.

The bar association has submitted 12 proposals many of them follow the lines recommended by the 1957 commission on constitutional revision, headed by Superior Court Judge Robert E. Woodside.

OTHER APPROVALS

One proposal given preliminary approval would make minor changes in sections of criminal tribunals and eliminate a section prohibiting emigration from the state.

The commission also tentatively agreed on a proposal to shorten the oath of office taken by legislators, judges and state and county officers and to change the liability for impeachment from a misdemeanor in office to misbehavior in office.

Held for further study were bar association proposals eliminating the requirement for a two-thirds vote on non-preferring appropriations in the state legislature and dispensing with the reading of bills at length.

50 NEW LOCOMOTIVES

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Bids on up to 50 high speed, heavy-duty freight diesels for the Pennsylvania Railroad are due from freight locomotive builders by noon, Monday, Jan. 13.

The freight diesels will be used for through services on the Pennsy's Main Line routes.

Udall added: "The buck stops right on this desk. It will be my responsibility, and if there is criticism coming, it should come to me—I can take it."

CRIME RATE: FBI Director

J. Edgar Hoover predicts a sharp rise in crime during 1964 "unless we witness a radical change in the behavior patterns of our more than 180 million population."

Writing in the FBI's Law Enforcement Bulletin, Hoover said "an alarming number of persons not only are not doing their part but are overtly aligning themselves with violators against law enforcement officers who are discharging their sworn duties in upholding the law."

ELECTRICAL WORKERS: Secretary-Treasurer Al Hartnett has been voted out of office by members of the International Union of Electrical Workers, AFL-CIO.

A union statement said the action, which supported President James B. Carey, marked the first time in the history of the American labor movement that a union's membership had voted a high-ranking official out of office.

Carey and Hartnett have been feuding for about two years. They have engaged in physical exchanges and accused each other of financial irregularities.

Most Little Guys Had Pretty Good Year In '63

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—The little guy, any little guy going home this New Year's Eve, felt like a man blowing feathers. He tried to clear his head of a lot of things but they floated back and stuck.

It had been a good year for him, in a way. He had a job, which millions didn't. There hadn't been any war, or even fear of war, at least in this country. Next year looked peaceful, too.

But he felt a little uneasy. He didn't have any illusions about peace in the world. Peace, he knew, was like a blanket on a nest of eggs. Even when they were quiet they were hungry.

DIFFERENT THIS YEAR

That wasn't really what made him uneasy. There had been other New Year's Eves when he went home, just as he was going now, and thinking just about the same thoughts, most always about himself.

Now it wasn't so much about himself. That was the difference. Something outside himself and bigger than himself had troubled and hurt him like a pain ever since that day when President John F. Kennedy was killed.

It had spoiled the taste of life for him a bit. Christmas hadn't been the same for him as any other Christmas. Now New Year's Eve wasn't, either.

KILLED FOR NOTHING

A brilliant young man, a father and a president, a good man, for no one could say he wasn't, suddenly dead, shot like a tin can and maybe for just about as much reason.

To this day the little guy didn't know the reason and had never even heard one. Nobody seemed to know. That made everything worse. Even a completely crazy reason would have been more understandable than none.

So far as he knew the president had been killed for nothing. Lee Harvey Oswald had been charged with it but Oswald had been killed, too, before his story could come out and for a reason that also isn't clear.

MADE HIM THINK

It made the little guy think about the things he had managed not to think much about as the years went by and he grew older and his children grew up. It was the things about the world he lived in, the real one, not the little one he inhabited which was pretty much limited to the office and the people on the street where he lived and a few friends.

In the office, on his street, among his friends he had seen spats and spites, some of them very unpleasant.

But the people he knew somehow managed to get along or when they didn't, they backed away from one another and walked another road, even if it had been made lonelier by a harsh word that could never be withdrawn.

HOPING BUT UNSURE

But the little guy knew the big world is overloaded with people — sick, or stupid or stuffed with hate—for whom violence is a form of conversation.

He couldn't help thinking, and this was what gave him the uneasy feeling: if this can happen to a president, what else can happen? He had a greater sense of uncertainty than any he had known in his whole life.

He thought of his wife, his kids, himself, of the kind of world he'd like to live in as he went home this New Year's Eve, hoping life would be the way he wanted but not at all sure any more it ever would be.

Hearing Thursday For Accused Killer

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A hearing is planned Thursday for Charles Link, 15, accused of shooting to death his father, William, 58, in an family argument at their home.

Lt. Nicholas Arcardo said the elder Link was shot to death following an argument with his wife and the boy's mother.

According to the police the father called upstairs to his son during the argument, "I'm tired of living. Go ahead, kill me."

Lt. Arcardo said Charles went to his room, got his .410 shotgun, walked downstairs and fired twice.

The elder Link toppled over in front of the family's Christmas tree.

TO PURCHASE FIRM

NEW YORK (AP)—James J. Durkin Sr., chairman of the board of National Diversified Industries, has announced his firm's purchase of Rex Craft Associates of Avoca, Pa.

Rex Craft is a manufacturer of designed and package interiors. Terms of the purchase were not disclosed.

Durkin's announcement Monday also stated that Edward G. Gayeski, president of Rex Craft, would remain as head of that firm. He was named to National Diversified Industries' board of directors and designated executive vice president.

PEDESTRIAN IS KILLED

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—George W. Doyle, 63, of Upper Darby was struck and killed in a hit-run auto today on Lansdowne Avenue near 66th Street, the police said.

LONG SESSION ENDS MONDAY FOR CONGRESS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress has ended its longest peacetime session with fair warning that when it returns to work in eight days it faces "some of the most difficult decisions which this or any Congress is likely to be required to reach."

Thus Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield let his colleagues know, if they didn't already, that the drawn-out 1963 session of the 88th Congress was "just a beginning."

The battles over civil rights legislation and tax reduction had been only postponed and still lay ahead, although Democratic leaders express confidence both measures will be enacted.

FALSE STARTS

Adjournment Monday came as an anticlimax after the false starts, angry words and pre-dawn session during the holiday rush when the drive to close up shop was blocked by the foreign aid appropriation bill.

The Senate completed action on the battered $3 billion measure Monday including the provision giving the President discretionary authority to approve government guarantees of credit for private commodity sales to the Soviet bloc.

With this out of the way the Senate adjourned at 2:19 p.m. and the House made it official at 2:51 p.m. after a one-minute session.

EXPECT BARRY TO ENTER RACE

By WALTER R. MEARS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater's Republican Senate colleagues got their bets down today—and the smart money was on a bid for the White House by the Arizona conservative.

Goldwater gives his yes or no Friday at a meeting of Arizona Republican leaders in his native Phoenix.

The setting, his hilltop home overlooking the city, and the audience of state GOP leaders Goldwater chose seemed to hint he might plan to talk about an Arizona race—for re-election to his Senate seat.

But Goldwater spread word of his plans in a telegram Monday to his supporters across the country.

As senators scattered from Washington for the New Year's holiday, they put the odds on a Goldwater plunge into the race for the GOP presidential nomination.

Two of Goldwater's top supporters—talking like insiders—say they are confident he will declare himself a candidate.

Kidnappers' Bail Is Cut To $30,000

LOS ANGELES (AP)—John Irwin, one of three men accused of kidnapping Frank Sinatra Jr., says he "went along to make sure no one got hurt."

Irwin, 42, talked with newsmen briefly Monday after a federal judge reduced his bail from $50,000 to $30,000.

He said he was innocent of any part in the kidnapping of young Sinatra at Lake Tahoe.

The young singer was kidnapped from a Stateline, Calif., motel Dec. 8. Three days later he was returned to his parents in Los Angeles for a $240,000 ransom.

Irwin said he spent only about $31 of the $48,000 in ransom money he received.

"I bought some toys for my kids and something for my wife," he said, "but I had a check in my pocket and I honestly intended to cash it and make up the difference."

"Voluntary" Cuts Slash Cubans' Pay

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—"Voluntary savings" like 20 million pesos monthly from Cuban paychecks, the anti-Castro Revolutionary Workers Federation said today.

The exile organization said pressure is put on workers to make ample deposits in the government savings system. It quoted a recently arrived refugee, Arnaldo Machado, as saying there is so much red tape that workers can't withdraw deposits.

Average deposits by 2 million workers, the report said, are 10 pesos monthly. A peso is officially pegged at $1.

SCRANTON IN OREGON RACE

HARRISBURG (AP)—A peculiarity in Oregon's election laws has forced Gov. Scranton to allow his name to appear on that state's Republican presidential primary ballot, his office said Monday.

The primary will be held next May 15.

Under Oregon law, the state's secretary of state must list by March 6 all potential GOP candidates whose names have been mentioned in national news media. This, of course, includes Scranton.

Scranton's office said the only way a candidate may remove his name from the ballot is to take an oath that he has no intention of becoming a presidential candidate under any circumstances.

The governor's aides contend Scranton would take no such oath because of his repeated statements that he would accept a "sincere" draft.

Today In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

UDALL-OIL: Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall says he is the Interior Department official who will make final decisions on matters concerning the oil industry.

"The final decisions will be made by me, after consulting with appropriate officials," Udall told a news conference Monday. President Johnson recently granted the Interior Department authority to speak for the administration on all oil matters.

Udall added: "The buck stops right on this desk. It will be my responsibility, and if there is criticism coming, it should come to me—I can take it."

CRIME RATE: FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover predicts a sharp rise in crime during 1964 unless we witness a radical change in the behavior patterns of our more than 180 million population."

Writing in the FBI's Law Enforcement Bulletin, Hoover said "an alarming number of persons not only are not doing their part but are overtly aligning themselves with violators against law enforcement officers who are discharging their sworn duties in upholding the law."

ELECTRICAL WORKERS: Secretary-Treasurer Al Hartnett has been voted out of office by members of the International Union of Electrical Workers, AFL-CIO.

A union statement said the action, which supported President James B. Carey, marked the first time in the history of the American labor movement that a union's membership had voted a high-ranking official out of office.

Carey and Hartnett have been feuding for about two years. They have engaged in physical exchanges and accused each other of financial irregularities.

CHANGES IN CONSTITUTION OF PA. URGED

HARRISBURG (AP)—Two proposed amendments to the state constitution were given tentative approval Monday by the governor's Commission on Constitutional Revision.

At the same time, the commission took two other proposals under advisement. All four had been submitted by the Pennsylvania Bar Association.

The 29-member commission, headed by former Atty. Gen. William A. Schnader of Philadelphia, was named by Scranton after voters last month rejected a constitutional convention question on the ballot.

GOING TO GOVERNOR

The commission expects to hand all of its recommendations to the governor by an. 17. It meets here again next Monday and in Philadelphia Jan. 13-15.

Proposals which received tentative approval deal with the state's declaration of rights and portions of the 89-year-old basic law regarding public officials.

Held back were proposed amendments to the legislative and executive articles.

The bar association has submitted 12 proposals many of them follow the lines recommended by the 1957 commission on constitutional revision, headed by Superior Court Judge Robert E. Woodside.

OTHER APPROVALS

One proposal given preliminary approval would make minor changes in sections of criminal tribunals and eliminate a section prohibiting emigration from the state.

The commission also tentatively agreed on a proposal to shorten the oath of office taken by legislators, judges and state and county officers and to change the liability for impeachment from a misdemeanor in office to misbehavior in office.

Held for further study were bar association proposals eliminating the requirement for a two-thirds vote on non-preferred appropriations in the state legislature and dispensing with the reading of bills at length.

A Bit Of History About Early Settlers

By B. F. M. MacPHERSON

THE KERR FAMILY OF LOWER MARSH CREEK

The historical and genealogical study of Lower Marsh Creek Presbyterian graveyard, interrupted for the series on the Baile family and their burial ground, is continued at this time.

One of the oldest and most interesting family plots in Lower Marsh Creek burial ground is that of the Kerr family, early settlers in William Penn's "Manor of the Masque (or Mask)." According to records in the State Land Office a George Kerr filed a claim for land in October 1740 and a John Kerr in April, 1741. They had probably settled on their tracts some years before — as was usual in those early days.

Much of the data that will be included in this study of the Kerr family was compiled by the late Mrs. Frances Cunningham Harper, Elizabeth Lott Boyer, and Thomas Kerr Kirkpatrick.

In the early part of the eighteenth century a group of the so-called "Scotch-Irish" settled on lands located in the western part of what is now Adams County, Pennsylvania, at that time and for many years thereafter, the far western frontier. Among these people was George Kerr, his wife, Isabella Kerr, and their children.

FAMILY PLANTATION

The original George Kerr plantation was located along the present Gettysburg - Fairfield road, near the Lower Marsh Creek Presbyterian Church. It remained in the Kerr family for some five generations. John Joseph (5) Kerr sold the property, as his children were all daughters and there was no male heir of the name to carry it on.

Isabella Kerr, the wife of the first George Kerr, is buried in Lower Marsh Creek churchyard and her grave is marked. However, her husband, after the family was well settled on the frontier, apparently returned to Scotland, or possibly Ireland, for some reason or other. On his return to this province he fell ill at some one of the "Scotch-Irish" settlements along the Delaware — where he had stopped with friends. Here he died and was buried. The place of his death and interment is

"I likewise order and will that my two sons, George Kerr and William Kerr shall pay unto the residue of their brethren, the sum of fifty pounds current money as aforesaid, ten pounds to each brother to be paid when each brother shall arrive at the full age of twenty-three years according to their birthright."

George (3) Kerr, the eldest

A Bit Of History About Early Settlers

By B. F. M. MacPHERSON

THE KERR FAMILY OF LOWER MARSH CREEK

The historical and genealogical study of Lower Marsh Creek Presbyterian graveyard, interrupted for the series on the Baile family and their burial ground, is continued at this time.

HEADED FAMILY

John (2) Kerr, the son of George (1) and Isabella Kerr, became the head of the family on the death of his father. His mother continued to live with her son and John (2) Kerr provided for her in his will. She outlived him by only a few months. Both are buried in the Lower Marsh Creek graveyard and the inscription from the marker at their graves reads as follows:

1. "Here lies the body of John Kerr, who — departed this life — the 28th day of January, A.D. 1749 — Aged 49 years. — And also — the body of — Isabella Kerr — who departed this life — (?) — (?) — (?) — Aged — (?) Years."

Note: — The year of death, as given on the tombstone of John (2) Kerr, is in error — it should be 1759 and his age — 59 years.

DETAILED WILL

The will of John (2) Kerr, which was entered to probate March 19, 1759, is quite detailed — family-wise. His wife, Martha Kerr (the daughter of John and Elizabeth Fletcher Darby), is given one-third of her husband's personal estate, and sufficient maintenance upon the Kerr plantation during her widowhood. John (2) Kerr also provides for the welfare of "my ancient and honorable mother." The Kerr lands are equally divided between two sons, George (3) and William (3) Kerr.

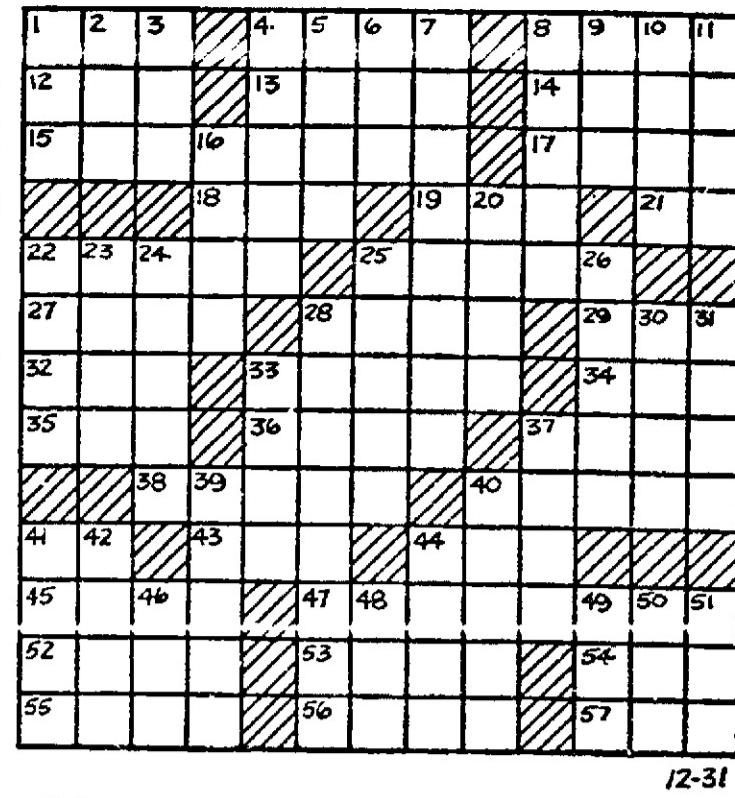

"Item — I give and bequeath to my seven sons, each of them, namely my son George Kerr, William Kerr, John Kerr, Samuel Kerr, James Kerr, Thomas Kerr and Andrew Kerr, the sum of twenty pounds current money of Pennsylvania, ten pounds of each twenty to be put out at interest until each of them arrive at the full age of twenty-one years, at which time they are to receive, each of them, the said twenty pounds principal together with the interest to them and their heirs forever . . .

"I likewise order and will that my two sons, George Kerr and William Kerr shall pay unto the residue of their brethren, the sum of fifty pounds current money as aforesaid, ten pounds to each brother to be paid when each brother shall arrive at the full age of twenty-three years according to their birthright."

George (3) Kerr, the eldest son of John (2) and Martha (Darby) Kerr, was born in 1740 and died February 12, 1815. He (George (3) Kerr) married Mary Waugh (born 1743 — died November 28, 1815), the daughter of John Jr. and Susan (Moffett) Waugh. John Waugh Jr., was the son of John Waugh Sr. and his wife, Jane Waugh. Susan (Moffett) Waugh, the widow of John Jr., married, for the second time, one — (?) Dickson, of Hunterstown, this County. After the death of her second husband, the widow took a third chance and married Colonel Matthew Dill, the latter of whom is buried beside her in Lower Marsh Creek churchyard.
